WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Hoover today had scored another congressional victory in his efforts to obtain enactment of the administration's prohibition reorganization and law enforcement program in the present session.

Two Become Law
With passage of the so-called "jury-less trial" bills by the house, three of the four major parts of the program has been approved by that body. Two have become law.

The situation was:
Prison reform program, including new prisons to house increased population due to prohibition and other laws, had become law.
Measure transferring prohibition enforcement from treasury to justice department had become law.

Wickersham commission court reform program, including "juryless trial" bill and modification of Jones law, had passed house and was sent to the senate today.
House interstate commerce commission had virtually agreed to report out modified administration bill for unification of border patrol forces.

Passage of the latter two in the senate is not expected.
The court reform program of the Wickersham commission, which was asked by the President, hurdled all obstacles in a bitter two day fight in the house.

The dog was a police dog, but he certainly showed how humiliated he was. It is safe to say that the man wasn't the owner of the dog, for it is the rule that a dog thinks his master ideal.

Bessemer high school graduating class has a unique distinction this year. Both the high honor places in the graduation class have been captured by boys, the salutatory and the valedictory being given by boys. This is probably the only graduating class in the county where boys have captured the scholastic honors.

Reports continue to reach the police about children being attacked or bitten by dogs. It seems to Pa New that there is a real work out for the police in enforcing the regulation of the dog law. There is no reason for allowing the dog menace to exist. If citizens desire to keep dogs that are their own business, but the law requires that the dogs must be kept from running at large.

Bishop Will Speak Sunday

Noted Churchman From
Cleveland To Address
Mass Meeting

PENTECOST WILL BE OBSERVED HERE

BISHOP W. L. ROGERS

Sunday, June 8, the churches of the city will celebrate the 1900th anniversary of Pentecost or the birth of the Christian church in a fitting manner at all services and in the evening a great mass meeting will be held in the Cathedral at 8 o'clock.

The speaker for this occasion is Rt. Rev. Warren Lincoln Rogers of Cleveland, O., bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal church. Bishop Rogers is known to thousands of people through his radio sermons and addresses and is a demand throughout the country as a preacher and lecturer. He is almost as well known in England, where he spent the summer of 1929 as exchange preacher of the Episcopal church.

He has held some of the highest ecclesiastical offices that can be held by a person in the United States and was a former rector of St. Thomas church of Detroit, Calvary church of Pittsburgh, St. John's church of Jersey City and dean of St. Paul's Cathedral in Detroit.

In addition to the address of this splendid man there will be a musical program by some of the best voices in the city, the choir having been made up of members of all the church choirs.

Seven Firemen Are Injured, Church In Philadelphia Burns

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—Seven firemen were injured and a priest overcome when fire destroyed the sanctuary of St. Casimir's Lithuanian church here this morning and threatened the rectory and convent buildings adjoining.

The blaze was discovered by Fr. Victor Michalis when he went to the edifice to celebrate Mass. He summoned the Rev. Alex Aluskas, another priest, and both entered the blazing building in an effort to save the sacrament and sacred vessels. They were driven back by the intense heat but upon the arrival of firemen, Father Michalis re-entered the building and was making his way out with the sacred relics when he was overcome. He was carried to safety by the firemen.

The seven firemen hurt were trapped in the building when the roof collapsed.
Lieutenant John McCann, of Engine Company 22, was so seriously injured it was feared he may die. He sustained a broken back and internal injuries.
All of the injured were taken to Mt. Sinai hospital.

WASHINGTON, June 5.—Alarmed apparently by growing opposition in Congress to the tariff bill, administration leaders today had adopted a new course of strategy, designed to enact the measure by June 16.

With the consent of House leaders the Senate abandoned debate on the controversial second section of the tariff conference report and concentrated on ironing out points of order against the first section. The report was divided by the conferees with the most controversial items between House and Senate grouped in the second report.

Objections Raised
A half dozen points of order were threatened against the first section, which contains rates on 800 tariff items. The first objection was raised by Senator Barkley (D) of Kentucky, who charged the conferees had exceeded their authority by fixing an exorbitant rate on watches. In the background other senators waited to enter parliamentary objections against the compromise rates on cherries, cheese, wool, cattle and manufacturers of rayon.

Vice President Curtis announced he would rule on all the points of order at one time. If he decides that any of the compromise rates are out of order the first section of the report will be returned to conference.

News Wants Pictures Of Civil War Vets

In connection with the G. A. R. encampment, which will be held here during the coming week, The News is desirous of obtaining pictures of all Civil War veterans in the county.

These should be brought to The News office not later than Friday at noon.
An effort has been made to see every Civil War veteran known to reside in the county, and most of them have been visited and pictures of these men have been secured. However, some who had promised to send in their pictures have not done so, while others may have been inadvertently missed.

Pictures of those who have been missed because The News was unable to find any record of them, are also desired and these veterans are asked to bring or send their picture to The News office by noon Friday.

Clendenin Estate In New Castle Will Go To Trinity College

Valuable Properties In This City Will Eventually Be College Owned

Life Interest Is Given To Judge Buffington, Then
College Is Beneficiary

Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, becomes the chief beneficiary eventually, of the will of Mrs. Marguerite Fairfax Clendenin of New Castle, a resident of Philadelphia on December 5, 1929. The will, which was probated in Pittsburgh has just become public.

Mrs. Buffington, who is remembered as Mrs. Marguerite Fairfax Clendenin of New Castle, was a daughter of Philadelphia at the time of her death, being the wife of Federal Judge Joseph Buffington. Aside from a number of legacies which she makes out-right, all the income of her estate goes to her husband during his life and at his death the entire estate remaining goes to Trinity College for the purpose of perpetuating the memory of Judge Buffington.

Bequests Annulled
Some of the bequests in the fore part of the will were cancelled and annulled by a codicil which is attached to the will. These included bequests for several local people, and bequests to women in England. Edwin Stevens and Emma Lou Stevens, son and daughter of a former New Castle woman are left bequests of $10,000 each.

Trinity College will not benefit immediately under the terms of the will but at Judge Buffington's death the college will receive all the estate then remaining, to be used as the trustees of the college see fit, to accomplish the purpose of the late Mrs. Buffington.

Cannon Refuses To Answer Any More Questions

Withdraws From Probe Session At Washington This Morning

WAS APPEARING AS VOLUNTARY WITNESS

Senate Committee, Without Quorum, Is Powerless
To Check Move

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Bishop James Cannon, Jr., whose defiance of the senate lobby committee has furnished the Capital with a two-day sensation, spectacularly emphasized his disdain of the committee's authority today by not only refusing to answer questions concerning his political lobbying activities—but by walking out of the room and leaving the committee flat.
The bishop, who organized the South against Al Smith in 1928 contended that he was being "persecuted" by a "wet Roman Tammany element," denied the authority of the committee to probe his activities and expenditures, and figuratively told his inquisitors to mind their own business.

Not Under Subpoena
Non-plussed by the boldness of the bishop, and temporarily helpless because of the fact Cannon was not under formal subpoena, and further because no quorum was present, Senator Walsh (D) of Montana, adjourned the investigation for a week until the regular chairman, Senator Caraway (D) of Arkansas, returns to Washington.

Caraway is now in Arkansas and is not due to return until next Tuesday. Thus, for a week at least, Bishop Cannon will be allowed to enjoy the fruits of his defiance of the committee.

Upon Caraway's return it will be decided whether to subpoena the bishop and place him in a position where his refusal to testify will make him liable to prosecution for contempt of the senate.

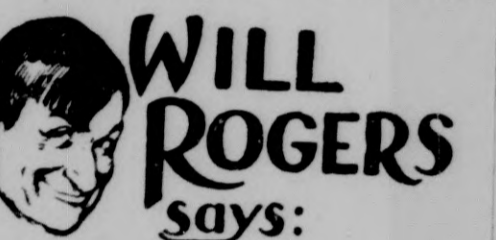

Before leaving, however, the bishop read to the committee another prepared statement in which he complained that he was being pilloried and persecuted by "the wet and Roman-Tammany element" in this country. He also said that he "deeply resented" that his anti-Smith activities in Virginia and his financial accounts were being probed into by a committee that had not seen fit to investigate the other side.

No Quorum Present
Both Blaine and Walsh attempted to point out to the Methodist leader that the committee—even without a quorum present—was empowered to question him, but the bishop cut short their argument by getting up and walking out, leaving the committee members and the roomful of spectators flat.
There was no quorum of the committee present again this morning, both Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, and Senator Robinson (R) of Indiana, absenting themselves, so it will be impossible for the committee to take any punitive action against the cleric for his defiance of this morning.

Whether the committee will now issue a subpoena for the bishop bring him back before it, and with a legal quorum present propound the questions he has so far refused to answer, (Continued On Page Two)

Start Work On Pick-up Device At Airport Here

Substantial Progress Made On Construction Of Device
At Bradford Field

WILL BE READY FOR USE IN FEW DAYS

Backers Of Project Are Hopeful Of Fund Being Raised
To Pay For Device

Work which was started under the supervision of Dr. Lytle S. Adams on the construction of the air mail pick-up device late yesterday afternoon, has progressed rapidly, and by noon today most of the framework for the device had been put in place.

The task of putting on the sheet iron covering is expected to be gotten under way this afternoon, and the mechanism will be ready for use in two or three days, Dr. Adams stated this morning.

The pick-up device is being put in place at the Bradford airport at Parktown corners and will probably be placed in actual use some time next week. The catapult has not arrived and will probably not be put in place until later, but is not necessary for the success of the device unless a heavy load of mail is desired dispatched.

The affair is a huge sheet iron covered framework, built much in the shape of a fan. It is mounted on wheels on a track so that it can be headed into the wind for the convenience of the pilot operating the mail plane.

It is being erected at the far corner of the airport so that it will not interfere with other usages of the field. Although the entire amount necessary to finance the project has not yet been raised, backers of the device are hopeful that the citizens of New Castle will be able to appreciate its value to the city and will contribute the remainder of the fund needed to finance its installation here. Approximately $1,000 is still needed.

Child Dies From Taking Medicine

Mr. and Mrs. George Fisher of Richelieu avenue are in receipt of word of the death of their nephew, Melvin Motter, the three-and-a-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Motter of Clairton.

The child was playing about the house Tuesday and in some manner got hold of some medicine in the form of pills that were left in the medicine cabinet and proceeded to swallow them. In a short time the child became violently ill and went into convulsions and was taken to the McKeesport hospital, where he died on Wednesday.

Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon from the family home in Clairton.

Mrs. Agnes Motter of Richelieu avenue is the grandmother of the little fellow.

mobile accident near Akron, O., which necessitated her retiring from active work. Later she married Judge Buffington and moved to Pittsburgh and later to Philadelphia.

A resume of the will follows.

Facts In Will

Item 1—Concerns life insurance policies to be added to estate in the event of Judge Joseph Buffington's death prior to that of Marguerite Fairfax Buffington.

Item 2—Directs payment of all debts and funeral expenses.

Item 3—Directs purchase of a burial lot for self and husband in Philadelphia, Pa.

Item 4—I give and bequeath as legacies to the following named persons the sums set opposite their names.

Marguerite Fairfax Jordan, Slaidburn, Yorkshire, England, $15,000.00.

Kate Jackson, Carlyle Manstons, Chelsea, London, $5,000.00.

Mrs. J. E. Whitaker, New Castle, Pa., $5,000.00.

Mrs. Paul Kanengiser, Bessemer, Pa., $5,000.00.

Hannah Buffington as a token of love and esteem, $1,000.00.

Item 5—I give and bequeath to my husband Joseph Buffington, all of my jewelry, linen, silver, furniture, portraits, pictures and other personal effects to be his absolutely, except my silver service marked with the Fairfax Arms, the tray of which I give to my namesake, Marguerite Fairfax Croelhus, and the other part and parts of it I give to Anne Thornton, daughter of Lady Virginia Thornton. In case my husband would like to use the silver ware during the rest of his life, I would be pleased if these two young friends would allow him to do so.

Item 6—All the rest, residue and remainder of my estate, real, personal and mixed, whether owned by me absolutely, or over which I have the power of appointment, I give, devise, and bequeath to my executors herein-after named, in trust, to hold, the same, to receive the proceeds from the sale or other conversion of any or all of my said estate, to re-invest the principal thereof, to collect rents, profits or dividends therefrom for the following uses and trusts.

A—To pay over the entire net income and profits to my husband, Joseph Buffington, for and during the term of his natural life in monthly or quarter instalments, as he and my trustees may agree.

B—Upon the death of my husband, to dispose of the principal of said estate as follows:

1—To pay to Edwin Stevens, son of Basil W. and Helen Stevens, $10,000.00, to Emma Lou Stevens, daughter of Basil W. and Helen Stevens, $10,000.00, to Joseph Buffington, 3rd, grandson of my husband, $10,000.00.

2—To pay, transfer, and deliver all of the rest, residue, and remainder of the said principal of said trust fund to Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, to be used by Trinity College to maintain and perpetuate the memory of my beloved husband, and as my tribute to him, in such manner as the trustee of Trinity College shall decide is the most appropriate use to accomplish my purpose.

Item 7—In the event that the last named bequest to Trinity College shall be or be held invalid, or shall fail by reason of my death within the statutory period, or for any other reason, then and in that event, I hereby cancel and annul the whole Item 6 and substitute them as follows, viz:

A—I direct that my executors to secure by mortgage, mortgage bonds or other securities, the payment at my husband's death the sum of $10,000 to Edwin Stevens, $10,000.00 to Emma Lou Stevens, daughter of Basil W. and Helen Stevens, $10,000 to Joseph Buffington, 3rd grandson of my husband. I desire my executors to pay over the net income and profits from my estate (after payment of debts and legacies specified) and my husband Joseph Buffington, for and during the period of his natural life. All the rest residue and remainder of my entire estate I give, devise and bequeath absolutely to James Brier Marks and Dr. Remsen B. Ogilby.

Item 8—This authorizes the executors to sell real estate.

Item 9—This authorizes the executors to invest and re-invest the proceeds of the estate and to buy bonds or stocks that are sound.

Item 10—This declares that dividends received by the executors to be a part of the income of the estate.

Item 11—I hereby nominate, constitute and appoint as the executors and trustees of my estate, J. E. Whitaker, James G. Marks and my husband Joseph Buffington and the survivors or survivor of them.

Item 12—I hereby cancel and revoke any and all will heretofore made by me and I hereby declare this to be my last will and testament.

STAR LORE

FIRE-BALLS

By Arthur Del. Carpenter.

Meteors too large to be consumed as a result of the friction heat when they fall into the earth's atmosphere are known as fire-balls. Sometimes they appear brighter than the full moon, and create a great roaring like violent thunder. The thunder is the result of the sudden displacement of the atmosphere as the meteor passes through it. These large meteors have been known to lose their great velocity owing to the resistance of the air, and to strike the ground like spent cannon balls. Having now been captured by our planet, fire-balls are known as meteorites. They may be seen on exhibition in museums.

remains to be seen. Until a quorum can be obtained no action can be taken.

There was mingled applause and "boos" as the limping figure of the bishop disappeared through the door of the committee room.

"Good" and "fine," shouted the bishop's partisans.

"He's yellow" and "he quit," came from those who had no sympathy with his views.

Walsh pounded for order in the noise and confusion before departing. Bishop Cannon set forth at some length his refusal to longer attend the hearings as a "voluntary witness."

Cannon's Statement.

The statement follows:

"In view of the questions asked me by the committee on yesterday morning concerning the Asheville conference (where the groundwork was laid for the anti-Smith campaign in 1928) its originators, its participants, its officers, its methods, its contributions, etc., and the further questions asked me concerning the activities of the anti-Smith Democrats of Virginia and specifically concerning the activities of myself as one of the two citizens calling the Asheville conference and as the chairman of the headquarters committee of that organization, and as the treasurer of the Virginia anti-Smith Democrats and furthermore in view of the fact that no such investigation has been instituted by the committee into the activities of other organizations or committees opposing or favoring the wet Tammany candidate in 1928, not even of the Smith independent organization committee, both supported entirely by funds from the national Democratic committee, and because I consider this to be an effort to single out and hold up to the country the anti-Smith Democrats and myself in particular as the only person whose activities in the campaign in 1928 require investigation and because I believe the proposed investigation to be a part of the efforts for many months of wet and Roman Catholic elements and of those who worship party regularly to prevent a recurrence of the Asheville conference in 1932, I resent to the limit the implication and the purpose of this action.

"In view of these things, I must respectfully state that having answered all questions addressed to me by the committee, which I volunteered to appear as a witness I shall now withdraw as a voluntary witness. If the committee desires to subpoena me that is its right."

Bishop Leaves.

So saying, the bishop gathered together some documents, thrust his crutch under his arm and arose.

"I feel called upon to say that the committee does not take that view of the matter at all," Walsh said, calmly.

"If you are aware of any individual who has been conducting a lobby we shall be glad to have such information, and you may be sure, that the committee will prosecute the inquiry to the limit."

Blaine joined with Walsh in expressing an opinion that the committee had the power to question Cannon about his political activities as a form of lobbying to control the action of congress on the prohibition question.

Both senators were talking at once. "If you want i.e., the bishop interrupted them, 'my office is at the Bliss building and you can subpoena me there.'"

The churchman placed his papers under his arms, took his crutch, turned his back to the committee and walked out, leaving Blaine talking to his disappearing back.

Borah Appears.

Senator Borah (R) of Idaho, who had promised to appear to constitute a quorum of the committee today so that Cannon's defiance might be tested, walked into the room soon after the bishop had left. He appeared surprised when he found that Cannon had walked out on the committee.

The bishops' action came without any preliminary warning. As soon as the committee met and before any question was asked him, Cannon asked permission to read a prepared statement, which he said would "bear directly upon the question of procedure." Walsh granted that permission. He then read his statement.

Read Messages

After Cannon's departure, Blaine read into the record a series of telegrams exchanged between Cannon and the committee relative to his appearance.

The only evidence of heat in the whole procedure came just as Cannon was about to leave the room when Walsh ejaculated:

"The remarks you make are for the purpose of criticizing this committee."

"I am not on the stand," Cannon snapped.

"You will take your own chances on leaving," Walsh warned him.

"I shall return if you subpoena me," the bishop retorted.

The session continued, despite Cannon's absence, with Blaine reading into the record documents seized in Cannon's files, these concerned his 1928 activities, and the distribution of Cannon's much discussed Anti-Smith pamphlet.

Faced with a vacant witness chair, Blaine placed in the record the report of Cannon to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for 1928 in which he listed among his "circular activities" the Asheville, N. C., Anti-Smith meeting, a meeting at Norfolk, Va., and another at Huntington, W. Va.

Cannon, when on the stand, insisted that he acted as an individual in the Anti-Smith fight and not as a bishop of the church. In his report, however, he listed the Anti-Smith Asheville conference and others as "church activities."

Walsh then read into the record of the Virginia Anti-Smith campaign committee, filed with the house, which accounted for only $17,000 of the $65,300 given Cannon by E. C. Jameson, New York capitalist and also read the order of the Steiwer committee.

Jameson to account for the money he gave the Hoover campaign. Jameson reported he sent Cannon $65,300.

At this point Walsh adjourned the hearing until the return of the chairman, Senator Caraway (D) of Ark., next Wednesday.

HOOVER SCORES NEW VICTORIES IN HIS DRY PROGRAM

the house, with dry leaders creating a wet and dry issue to assure victory.

Modified Jury System

The program includes a modification of the jury system that has existed for 150 years, and both party and wet and dry lines were broken to some extent.

Under this program, designed to relieve congestion in Federal courts, a new class of petty violators of the prohibition law is created with a six months imprisonment. Casual drinking of less than a gallon of liquor becomes a petty offense. Hearings may be had before U. S. court commissioners, without jury trial. Defendants, however, are permitted to demand jury trial after the commissioner reports to the Federal judges, who pass sentence.

Both Rep. Graham (R) of Pennsylvania, chairman of the judiciary committee, a wet, and Rep. Sumner (D) of Texas, ranking Democrat, a dry, opposed the bills as an invasion of the constitutional right of trial by jury.

Passage was accomplished with Rep. Michener (R) of Michigan, handling the bill declaring congress was bound to give the President the machinery he wants to enforce the dry law.

Union Graduation Thursday Evening

Union high school commencement exercises will be held Thursday evening in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock, daylight savings time. A class of 24 will be graduated.

Dr. W. C. Wallace, president of Westminster college will deliver the evening's address.

Deaths of the Day

James C. Fleming Funeral.

Funeral services for James C. Fleming were held from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Jean Fleming Thompson, 327 Boyles avenue, Wednesday afternoon and the house was filled with sympathizing friends and the mass of floral tributes silently told the story of his popularity among a host of friends.

Palbearers were Harry White, J. C. Williams, Harry Dunlap, William H. Dunlap, Frank Butler and John White.

Interment was made in Graceland cemetery.

NEW STRATEGY IS ADOPTED TO SPEED TARIFF BILL VOTE

will meet again, reduce the objectionable rates to the limits prescribed by the vice president and report the bill back to the Senate.

Seek Agreement

A gentleman's agreement will be sought then to amalgamate the two sections. This procedure was determined by administration leaders in order to speed action on the conference report at both ends of the capitol. It would undoubtedly reduce debate and it would confine action in both branches to a single vote on adoption or rejection of the entire report.

One of the unusual features of the tariff row was the development of a situation in which the vice president can "technically" fix tariff rates. Ordinarily, unless there is a tie vote, the vice president has no voice in legislation. Under circumstances now existing in the Senate he can lower rates on watches, cheese, cherries, rayon, wool and cattle by the simple expedient of holding the compromise rates out of order.

No Separate Vote

The vice president has given no indication how he will rule, but the belief prevailed he would uphold all the points of order. This was based chiefly on his recent action in holding the conferees had exceeded their authority in drafting a compromise flexible tariff feature. His ruling struck out the compromise and forced the conferees to adopt a new flexible clause which opponents of the bill found to their surprise, to be much more objectionable than the original compromise.

Under the new plan of procedure the Senate will never get a separate vote on the new flexible clause or the action of the conferees in abandoning the debatable tariff provisions were included in the second section, which will now be linked to the first.

Administration leaders still professed doubt over the outcome. Opposition leaders, however, said they expected the bill to pass by a close vote. There seemed no indication to unreasonably delay the final vote, and administration leaders seemed content in their prediction of enactment or death by June 16.

SEMPER FIDELIS MEMBERS MEETING

Mrs. Alphonso Scarazzo and Miss Josephine Scarazzo entertained members of the Semper Fidelis club in the former's home on Hazelcroft avenue Wednesday evening. After a brief business session, a delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. Spring flowers were tastefully used in the table decorations as well as throughout the home. At the close of the evening, Mrs. Rose Fazzone and Mrs. E. H. Scarazzo were awarded the evening's prizes.

In two weeks the club will be entertained by Mrs. Paul DiCarbo and Mrs. W. V. Marssaro on Lutton street.

Y. L. B. Class.

The Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church met in the class room Wednesday evening for their regular monthly business and social event.

Devotionals were led by Mrs. J. W. Rupert with a delightful program especially arranged under the direction of Mrs. Albert Theophilus following.

Those participating in an excellent manner included piano duet by Nettie Irene Mann and Edith Ziegler, reading by Betty Lou Orr, vocal solo by Jean Hartland, clarinet solo by Gilbert Colnot accompanied by Mrs. D. C. Brown, reading by Charline Bates, piano solo by Jean Kennedy, reading by June Foringer, quartet comprising Willard McCown, Kathryn Harper, Carolyn Book and Edgar McCown, with Miss Kathryn McMillin accompanying at the piano. This program was one much enjoyed and worthy of mention.

Later in the evening Section D served a delicious lunch in the dining room of the church.

Breakfast at Park

Girls of the New Castle Credit Exchange enjoyed a breakfast at Cascade Park at 6:30 this morning. Covers being laid for ten. The tables were attractively decorated with peonies and roses.

Those present were Mrs. Howard Welsh, Mrs. Margaret Kirker, and the Misses Mabel Steinbrink, Mary Green, Catherine Zank, and Eva Wimer from the Credit Exchange office, while special guests were Mrs. M. B. Emery, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Frank Doerr, and Miss Georgiana Ryan.

Irretha Dart Class Meets

Members of the Irretha V. Dart class of the First Christian church met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Osborne, Grant and Highland avenue, with Mrs. John Robinson and Mrs. George Dufford as assistant hostesses.

An evening of games and music followed the regular business session and plans were made for a breakfast at Cascade Park in July and the annual picnic in August.

Closing the evening the hostesses served dainty refreshments.

Past Chiefs Association

The Past Chiefs Association scheduled to meet Friday afternoon has been postponed indefinitely on account of sickness.

JEWISH WOMEN CLOSE CLUB SEASON WEDNESDAY

Summer weather and vacation time draws nigh and the various clubs and organizations bring their season of activities to a close. A most unusual and interesting meeting of the New Castle Council of Jewish Women brought their season to a close Wednesday afternoon in the Assembly room of Temple Israel.

Mrs. Marcus Feuchtwanger, who has so capably filled the office of president of this organization for so many years, filled the chair for the last meeting of her administration and it was with much regret that the women of the council accepted her resignation as under her guidance and leadership the organization has made great strides in their work and the New Castle Council is one of the outstanding organizations in the United States.

Reports were heard from the heads of the various committees and the work done the past year proved that the women have all taken an active interest and when the year was summed up the total of all things was most gratifying.

Following the reports and acceptance of them Mrs. Feuchtwanger, in her inimitable manner, installed the new officers, instructing them in the duties in a most explicit way. Mrs. Ben Kline was inducted as the presiding officer for the coming year.

Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, first vice president; Mrs. Irvine Grossman, second vice; Mrs. Harry Cuckerman, third vice; Mrs. Ted Marlin, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Kulkin, financial secretary; Mrs. D. Silverman, treasurer and Mrs. Lawrence Davis, corresponding secretary.

The new officers then took their respective stations and upon the withdrawal of Mrs. Feuchtwanger from the chair, she was presented with a beautiful pair of boudoir lamps, which were mightily suggestive and symbolic of the light she has been to the council during her administration. She, in turn, presented each officer who had served under her with a gift in appreciation of the wonderful cooperation they had given her.

The guest speaker, Mrs. E. B. Russell, president of the Thursday club of New Wilmington, was then introduced and gave a most instructive and interesting talk on the "American Home" bringing out some new ideas in her most charming manner.

Closing the program a lunch of dainty sandwiches, cake and coffee was served by the hostesses: Mrs. Norman Ehrlich, Mrs. Joseph Ehrlich, Mrs. A. Gonic, Mrs. Jack Frank, Mrs. Abe Levine, Mrs. J. Leiby, Mrs. M. J. Donnelly and Mrs. Harry Cuckerman.

The council will resume activities again in September.

Patterson Circle Picnic

Tuesday afternoon and evening marked the annual picnic of the Patterson Circle of the First Presbyterian church when the members gathered at the home of Mrs. David Ritchie on the New Wilmington road with well filled baskets to enjoy the afternoon and evening hours.

On the lawn amid the green shrubbery and the blooming flowers a table, beautifully appointed, was set for 25 members, and a delicious picnic supper served.

Following supper the members held a business session and made plans for a lawn fête and social to be held at the corner of Grant and North Jefferson streets on the evening of July 15.

Victorian Club

Associates of the Victorian Club enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. John Probst who entertained Wednesday evening at a theatre party, followed by a light lunch. Covers were laid for five guests.

The gathering marks the last event of the season until fall.

Aid Plans Dinner

At the Wednesday meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the Central Presbyterian church the women planned to serve dinner at noon in the church Tuesday of next week in order to serve the many people who will be in town for the encampment.

Wednesday June 18, the women will meet for all day quilting with a turquoise dinner at noon.

JAMESON AID SOCIETY HAS SPLENDID MEETING

The Jameson Aid society held their regular weekly meeting at the hospital Wednesday morning from 9 until 12:30 o'clock when approximately a hundred articles for use in the hospital were completed.

A special effort is being taken by several of the board members to collect the money pledged to the hospital by calling and drawing attention to the fact. If all respond, the funds for the hospital will amount to enough that it will not be necessary to give functions to raise money to meet expenses that will come due as time goes on.

It was also announced that plans for the fruit campaign which will occur in November, have been furthered. There will be another meeting Wednesday morning from 9 until 12:30 o'clock at the hospital when all who care to sew are cordially invited.

R. T. MEMBERS

PLAN FOR PICNIC

Members of the R. T. club enjoyed the hospitality of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Vincent of North Liberty street Wednesday evening when they assembled for their usual social time. Two tables of bridge were in play during the social period with lovely favors being won by Mrs. William Evans and Earl Reeves.

At the close of the evening an appetizing lunch was served the guests at the small tables prettily arranged in a variety of pastel hues, centerpieces consisting of spring flowers. The hostess was

Teach Babe Inhibitions, Says Expert

The awful tragedy of the penitentiary fire at Columbus, Ohio, has brought to the public's notice the overcrowding of our country's prisons. There will be a great spurt in building operations if these institutions are to take care of the growing group of criminals. Adequate room there ought to be, of course.

But we have been working at the wrong end to reduce crime. At the baby's cradle is the place to put our efforts. The nursery school of crime is in the home.

Most of the talk and typing on this subject pre-supposes that the hope of bringing up from babyhood good citizens is to give the kids more freedom, grant them more opportunities to express themselves, cut down on restraints. No doubt many parents of the lower social strata have been brutal with their children. Greater sympathy and kindness in the home is certainly most desirable in all levels of society. But it is among the upper intellectual and social level where more adequate restraints are needed, where more inhibitions in the young child should be taught.

With the tremendous recent emphasis upon complexes, repressions and fixations the habit factor has been overlooked. The criminal is not, as a rule, the product of repression, but the product of expression, except where his earlier bad habits had brought him into inevitable conflict with other members of society and the law. Then his earlier habits aided him in an escape from these "repressions" as he committed crime.

I have a notion that a lot of the nice sounding phrases about letting children always have a free and easy way of living, and the widely propagated doctrine that the child needs less restraint, (interpreted by many parents to mean that he should be allowed to do about as he pleases) is a very large contributor to the growing crowd of criminals. But we are only beginning to reap the harvest from this planting, for the acreage in the past ten years has been growing like a mushroom in the night. Wait till the babies of the parents who have been saturated with this have-your-own-way doctrine grow to adolescence. Then we are going to have prisons, penitentiaries and asylums that will even stretch our eagerness to boast of bigness.

Don't be over-optimistic. A good many thousand mothers who have had fine cultural background and education are now saying to themselves, "I must let my little child grow up with the newer freedom." "Self-expression is going to be the slogan." "He will just naturally learn restraint as he grows old enough to reason." More of these mothers than we have the power to imagine will be weeping by and by over adolescent children and young men and women whom the state will have taken with the hope of teaching them the alphabet of inhibitions. But few of these youth will then learn their lessons even after spending years in the country's free boarding schools known as reformatories, prisons and penitentiaries.

We are going to wake up by and by. Parents will not always fool themselves as they are deluded by false doctrines. A lot of sensible fathers and mothers of new babies are going to work out together an intelligent program of rearing their children with some safe restraint. Certainly we do not want to sing now to our babies: "More room, more room in prison for me."

You can ideally modify the harsh "edge" of French dressing if you add

A dash of Sugar

THERE is no reason for French dressing making you wince when you eat it on your favorite salads. A dash of sugar added to the salt, pepper and vinegar or lemon juice, blends these ingredients with the oil into a dressing that is simply delicious.

Try this dressing, flavored with sugar, on lettuce, cabbage, asparagus and tomato salads and see how much more you will enjoy these important foods. This dressing is also delicious on fruit salads or combinations of fish and vegetables.

In cooking vegetables, a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt improves their flavor in a most surprising manner. For example, try this seasoning on carrots, string beans, peas, spinach and tomatoes and you will take new pleasure in eating these foods which have vitamins, mineral salts and roughage. Child Is Found To Have Leg Fractured

Walter Minner Has Both Bones
Automobile Accident

Walter, the six-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Minner of 1211 East Brook street, who was knocked down by an automobile Tuesday morning, and at the time thought to be but slightly injured, was found to be suffering a fracture of both bones of the left leg, and bad cuts and abrasions about the head and arms, upon an X-ray examination Wednesday night.

The little boy had been sent to the store and was crossing Croton avenue within the school zone as the last bell for school was ringing, as a car driven by a man from Beaver Falls, struck him, knocking him down and going over the left leg. When he was picked up he was taken to the New Castle hospital and given first aid, but was not thought to be hurt badly and was returned to his home, where he seemed to be suffering a great deal. Wednesday night he was again taken to the hospital and X-rays taken of his injuries, when it was found both bones in the left leg were fractured. Today he is resting as easily as can be expected.

How are naval aviators selected? Candidates for naval aviators are selected from graduates of the naval academy at Annapolis, who volunteer for flying duty. These candidates are required to submit to a rigid flight physical examination, and if they pass this successfully, they are sent to the naval air station at Pensacola (Fla.) for training. The ground and flight courses include theoretical and practical flying in both seaplanes and landplanes, and theoretical and practical gunnery, bombing, navigation, radio, etc. If the candidate successfully completes this course, he is designated a naval aviator.

Were the signers of the Declaration of Independence outlawed by Great Britain? The signers and their families were proscribed as traitors by the British government, and rewards of 500 pounds were offered for their apprehension.

When were the Danish West Indies acquired by the United States? The Danish West Indies were taken possession of by the United States on March 31, 1917, and cost us $25,000,000. They had a population of 32,000 and consisted of the islands of St. Croix, St. Thomas and St. John.

When was the flag of the city of New York adopted?

This flag was adopted in 1915 at the order of the mayor. It tells the history of New York. The colors in the flag are Dutch—blue, white and orange—the same which floated over the island of Manhattan more than 300 years ago. The colors are exact, a pure indigo blue in use in 1626, and the distinctive color of the Prince of Orange. The arms are English, representing the reign of the Duke of York, and the crest is a spread eagle, distinctly American.

What is the best method to remove wax from clothes?

Scrape off as much as possible; then use French chalk, blotting paper on other absorbent with a warm iron. The iron will melt the wax and the absorbent will take up the wax. Benzine or gasoline may also be used.

Peter's Adventures

YOU CAN'T HAVE EVERY THING!

Brown Beetle has sighed no more deeply than did Peter as he looked at Brown Water Beetle and thought of all the things that insect could do which he couldn't. Now it was the Beetle's turn to demand of the boy what was the matter.

"I was just wishing I could sail 'trough the air like you do!" Brown Beetle chuckled.

"I don't wonder you worry because you can't fly, boy!" said he. "There's nothing more fun than a good fast fly—not even a swim—and I ought to know. But then, you are not situated like I am. And obliged to spend most of your day under water. You are smart and can find your way about in the world; you are tall and can see what is going on without taking to the air as I have to. Perhaps Old Mother Nature thought you have enough as it is—if she had given you wings you would have had everything and that would be giving you an unfair advantage over all other living creatures, now wouldn't it?"

"Maybe," agreed Peter, and caught his breath. "Good gracious, who is that?"

"Where?" Brown Beetle was startled. "Right behind you in that thicket of grasses," replied Peter. "What does he look like?" Brown Beetle whispered.

"He looks ugly, and has on a yellow coat. I was right, he is as ugly as he looks!" He just pounced upon a harmless little gnat that didn't see him. Watch out! He is coming your way! He may attack you in a moment!"

Cautiously Brown Beetle glanced about him, caught sight of the stranger and to Peter's astonishment, gave his hoarse chuckle.

"Grrreump! Imagine my being frightened at one of my best friends. Come on out, Snakeie Grub. Here's someone who wants to meet you!"

Next: "Meet Snakeie, the Grub!"

Name County Man As Instructor At U. Of California

Wallace Brewster, Now At State,
Will Teach Political Science There

Wallace Brewster, son of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Brewster of the Jackson road has been named to the faculty of the University of California as an assistant in the department of political science, according to word received here.

Mr. Brewster graduated from New Castle high school in the Class of 1923 and from the Pennsylvania State College in 1928. Since his graduation from State, he has been connected with the department of history and political science of his Alma Mater, serving as an instructor in American government and modern European history. While serving in this capacity, Mr. Brewster took additional work which resulted in his receiving the master of arts degree last February.

Mr. Brewster's work at the University of California will be of such nature as to permit him to pursue a course of study at the law school. This university is said to be the largest in the world. While in college Mr. Brewster was active in debating and musical activities. He is a member of the Omega Epsilon, Delta Sigma Rho and Phi Mu Alpha fraternities.

McCalla's Mother Dies In Kansas

Word was received late yesterday of the death Tuesday in Olathe, Kan., of Mrs. Frank R. Lanter, mother of Mrs. C. S. MacCalla, 279 Alameda avenue, Youngstown.

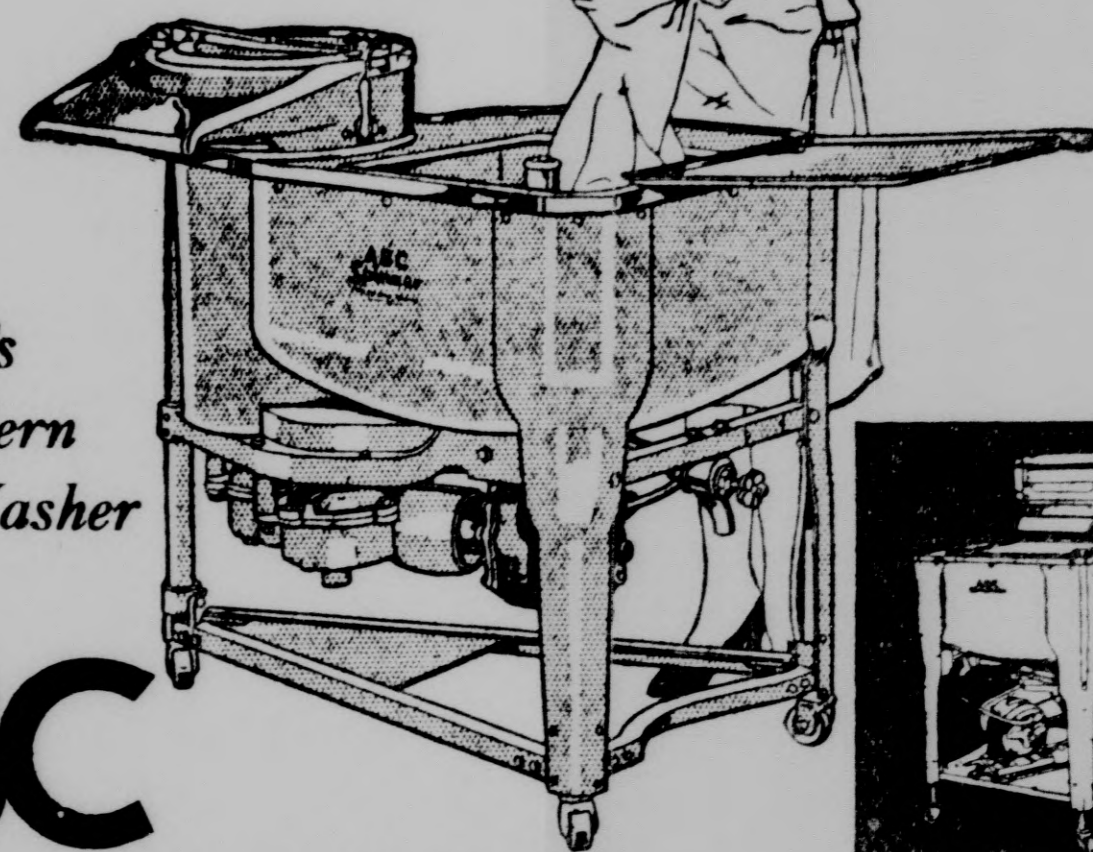

Mr. MacCalla, who is vice president and general manager of the Penn-Ohio System, and Mrs. MacCalla were in Colorado Springs, Col., on their way to San Francisco to attend the national conventions of the National Electric Light Association and the American Electric Railway Association when word of the sudden death of Mrs. MacCalla's mother reached them. They left immediately for Olathe.

New Swimming Pool At Y. W. C. A. Camp Will Be Attractive Spot

When the Y. W. C. A. summer camp at Eastbrook Station opens on July 1, one of the big handicaps, lack of a swimming pool, will have been eliminated as work is now rushed to completion on this project.

In the past years, the campers have had no adequate place for swimming, and it was necessary to walk nearly a mile over the dusty roads to Lakewood Beach. Even this arrangement was not satisfactory as they could not hold camp swimming meets due to the interference caused by other bathers.

The Association will have a modern sanitary pool on their own property this year, however, which will prove a great convenience.

The pool which is now being constructed is located about 200 feet from the main camp building. It is as at the foot of a small hill, which will serve admirably as a vantage point for spectators. The grassy slope will afford room for several hundred people to sit in comfort and watch the swimmers in their play and games.

It is of standard dimensions, 25 feet by 75 feet, with a spoon-shaped bottom. Over half of the pool is shallow enough for those learning to swim the depth varying between three and four feet. The balance of the pool is being made deep enough for any diver, the deepest part being ten feet.

Every precaution for the safety of the bathers has been taken. The ladders, one at each of the four corners of the pool, have been set in the wall so that there will be no obstruction in the bathing area.

Entirely around the pool, there is to be a hand hold at the water level, and at the depth of five feet, a rope may be stretched across the pool to keep the inexperienced swimmer from getting into the deeper water. The pool will be enameled in light blue with black lines running lengthwise in the bottom of the pool to guide the underwater swimmer.

The pool will have a capacity of nearly 100,000 gallons of water which will be pumped from the Neshannock Creek. This water will be filtered before entering the pool and will be clear and sparkling.

A pump is being installed which will have sufficient capacity to change the entire contents every eight hours.

The reinforced concrete pool and its accessories were designed by the Thomas A. Gilkey Co., engineers, who have also had charge of the construction. The general contractors are F. R. Woods and J. Roy Snyder of New Castle.

Feeding Turkeys Very Important

County Farm Agent Suggests
Careful Diet For Young
Turkeys

Thoughts of Lawrence county farmers are now turning to the raising of young turkeys. They all wish to raise fat and healthy turkeys and that is a business in itself. Like most things important, certain rules must be followed in the raising of the birds.

Lawrence County Farm Agent H. R. McCulloch stated this morning that young turkeys grow fast and need a good supply of bone and muscle building material. Chick-starting mash will grow young turkeys but it is better to add some protein and minerals, the county agent suggests.

To 100 pounds of chick starter add 2 pounds of buttermilk, powdered or skimmed milk, 3 pounds of fish meal, and 3 pounds of bone meal, he states. After the birds are 48 hours old the mash can be kept before them safely at all times. If the poult does not have feed for a long time they become hungry and are likely to overeat when the feed is placed before them. In the past, it was considered that poult were easily overfed. Recent experiences have revealed that few overeat and many are under-nourished.

Feed Scratch Grain.

When the poult is 10 days old scratch grain can be fed twice a day. A good scratch mixture is composed of equal parts of cracked corn and wheat. When the birds grow larger the grain can be fed whole and one-third oats or barley can be added.

When the birds are eight weeks old, it is practicable to change to a growing mash. For young turkeys ranging on alfalfa, Nebraska growers use 300 pounds of yellow corn meal, 200 pounds of shorts, 100 pounds of bran, 100 pounds of meat and bone meal, and 7 pounds of granulated salt.

Add Market Fats.

Young turkeys are continually molting and growing feathers until they are almost mature, Mr. McCulloch explains. After their last set of pin feathers are matured, the birds fatten more easily. Cold nights also stimulate their appetites and prompt fast gains. At this time, heavy feeding of well-cured grain, especially corn, can be started. Additional weight, finish, and quality of the meat can be obtained by feeding milk in addition to the grain during the fattening period. Skim milk, buttermilk, or condensed milk for poultry is satisfactory. This growing mash mixed with milk to a thick porridge consistency is a good finishing feed.

Finishing turkeys is important. The birds will weigh more and have a higher dressing percentage, and the meat will be juicier and have a delicate taste.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Van Horn of Park street announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Jane Van Horn, to Robert J. Evans of Brookville. The wedding took place at the Methodist church with Dr. C. E. Petree officiating.

Mrs. Evans is a graduate of Grove City high school and the Grove City college and for the past few years has been secretary to F. F. Loftis, consulting engineer at Brookville.

The young couple will make their home in Brookville.

FACULTY HOLDS PARTY

The faculty of the Central high school recently held a dinner at the Shafter party house for the pleasure of Miss Nina Abernathy, who has resigned her position as a member of that school's faculty. Placements were made for 16 guests at the small tables. Following the dinner a social time was enjoyed. The teachers presented Miss Abernathy with a beautiful gift. The engagement of Miss Abernathy will terminate in an early fall wedding.

Deer Are Partial To Garden Crops

HARRISBURG, June 5.—Apparently in testimony to the excellence of state institutional farm crops and garden products, a herd of approximately 20 deer have passed up the tender greens of other acreages in the neighborhood of Laurelton State Village, under the jurisdiction of the State Department of Welfare, and have feasted on about half of the early tomato plants set out in the village garden, not to mention the new green shoots of rye and wheat in the crop fields, where the pasture seems to hold uncanny charm for the animals.

Other acreages under cultivation adjacent to the Laurelton fields apparently have no appeal for the deer, which have been given a wide berth by the discriminating deer. While the State Game Commission is co-operating to solve the problem officers at the institution are discussing the merits of special open seasons for deer.

Philadelphia Judge Blasts Martin's Hope In Chairmanship Row

Restraining Order Granted Preventing 16 Philadelphia Committeemen To Vote

Vare-Mellon Faction Appears Liked By Grundy-Pinchot Followers

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, June 5.—The bitter battle over the chairmanship of the Republican State committee between the Vare-Mellon faction and the Grundy-Pinchot followers took a sensational turn today when Judge Harry S. McDevitt sitting in the election court here granted a restraining order preventing the 16 newly elected Philadelphia members of the State committee from taking their seats at the organization meeting here on Saturday.

Loss of the 16 votes for Edward C. Martin, the Mellon-Vare candidate for re-election to the post, it is feared will be disastrous to their hopes of success.

Distinct Shock
S. Van Brown, of Williamsport, is the Pinchot-Grundy candidate for the chairmanship, and loss of the Philadelphia county delegation, Pinchot forces claimed, assured the election of their candidate.

Judge McDevitt's action came as a distinct shock to the Philadelphia organization, despite his intimations a few days ago that he would grant a restraining injunction to prevent certification of the Philadelphia vote all ballots now in dispute had been rechecked.

"I am granting an order restraining the county commissioners from certifying the vote," Judge McDevitt said, "and any member of the State committee who wishes to take an appeal will have two days in which to do it, the ground having been laid by the decision today."

The decision was looked upon as a distinct and perhaps decisive victory for the Pinchot forces.

Pinchot Backs Brown
Earlier in the day Pinchot had issued a statement asserting "the pledges of support for S. Van Brown, whom I am backing for state chairman, are so numerous as to assure his election."

The Vare-Mellon faction, however, also claimed their candidate was certain of re-election. A few of the leaders going so far as to assert Martin was assured of 85 of the 113 votes to be cast.

It has been suggested that the old members of the County committee might serve at Saturday's meeting and vote in place of the newly-elected ones who have failed so far to get their papers, but an examination of the law, it was said at State committee headquarters, reveals that any such substitution is not provided for. The next move by the Martin forces is uncertain. Either they can seek and immediate appeal to the Supreme court or else cause a postponement of the State committee meeting.

Henry Ford Is In Washington

Henry Ford, Detroit Millionaire Auto Magnate Is Opposed To Tariff Bill

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 5.—Henry Ford, millionaire auto magnate, and outspoken opponent of the Smoot-Hawley tariff bill, is expected to visit Capitol Hill today to confer with various leaders.

The Detroit manufacturer visited the capital in his private car yesterday, and after a long conference with Secretary of Labor Davis, went to the White House where he was a dinner and overnight guest.

Ford's published opposition to the present tariff, is based primarily on the threat of retaliation on the part of foreign governments, which it is argued, will make operation of branch American factories in Europe a difficult and unsatisfactory undertaking.

Ford factory branches are established in Ireland, England, France, Germany, and various other European countries.

Parking Law To Become Effective As Soon As Sweeper Arrives

Councilman Stanley Treser announced today, that the new power grader recently bought and delivered here has already been placed in operation and today is working in Fairfield avenue. The councilman said he expects the power sweeper soon. As soon as sweeper arrives Treser will request the city department of police to enforce the ordinance which prohibits parking between midnight and six a. m. in downtown business streets. He says that it would be impossible to clean streets with cars locked against curbs.

SENIORS HAVE DINNER-DANCE

High School Seniors Stage Dinner; Dance On Wednesday At Cathedral

On Wednesday night in the ball room of the Cathedral, the June graduating class of the high school enjoyed a dinner dance.

This affair replaced class night which was discontinued last January.

About 175 members of the class sat down to enjoy a well prepared dinner followed by dancing.

Melvin Moorehouse, president acted as toastmaster.

Miss Eleanor Galbraith supervisor of the class was presented with a gift by the class. Principal F. L. Orth gave a toast to the graduating class. Miss Cecelia McCoy contributed a dance which met with the approval of the gathering.

The members of the class were presented souvenirs as a remembrance of high school days. The class donors were Joe Lockley, Paul Elder, and Joe Casey.

Another feature of the evening was the trombone selection by Paul McCurdy and Kenneth Myers.

Neal Sturdy was general chairman of the dinner-dance. Doris Updegraff was in charge of the program.

The ball room was beautifully decorated with the class colors Blue and White. Lenore Beall was in charge of the decorations.

For early and sound sleep give the small child a light evening meal. Whole wheat or cereal bread, milk to drink, fruit and a vegetable or an egg are sufficient.

Eating vegetables raw whenever possible is one way to get all the vitamins present and the soluble minerals which might be lost in the cooking water.

Caliph's To Stage Ceremonial Friday

Friday night will witness the arrival into town from all the points of the compass, green lezzed Caliphs of Bagdad, to take part in the summer ceremonial of that mysterious organization, at the cathedral.

Several thousand members swarm in four times a year for the purpose of initiating into its mysteries, the large class of candidates which is always in waiting.

The candidates are placed in the charge of a delegation known as "The Forty Thieves" whose main purpose is to do the candidates good. The Forty Thieves are headed by Hon. Stan Treser, ably aided and abetted by Robert Thompson, Ed Pritchard, Robert Fleming, Wm Klee, Leon Drumm, and their several co-defendants.

The entertainment following the serious part of the program, will be in charge of Judy Sypher, while the banquet to be served at midnight, as only the Caliphs know how to serve, will be handled by the caterer of the organization, W. Seth Teets.

Hon. Bart Richards is the High Priest of the order, and Louis B. Round, Wely O. Rugh, Russell Melvin and Jess Preston take prominent will call for widening of the cartway.

The council set August, 1930, as the time for repaving, as the city at that time would have sufficient revenue to pay for the work.

Recently North street property owners asked council to widen the thoroughfare.

Councilman Burns believes, he stated recently, that it will be a costly undertaking, due to schools and church property abutting the street.

The calculation by the Bureau of Standards that someone is injured in an American home once in every 30 seconds probably does not consider the incidents of hurt feelings.—The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette.

Pennsylvania Leads Bituminous Output

For First Four Months Of Year
Pennsylvania Leads In Soft Coal Production

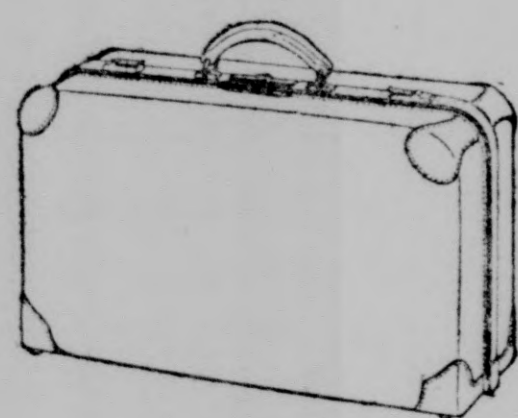

PITTSBURGH, June 5.—Pennsylvania led six other states in the mining of bituminous coal for the first four months of 1930 with a tonnage of 42,303,000, according to a bulletin issued today by the natural resources division of the chamber of commerce. West Virginia, the Keystone state's closest rival for bituminous production, was more than 2,000,000 tons behind the Pennsylvania production.

Fireman Injured At Turtle Creek

(International News Service)
TURTLE CREEK, Pa., June 5.—Four persons were forced to flee to safety, a fireman was injured and damage estimated at $3,500 was caused early today in a fire believed to have resulted from a gas explosion in the home of Earl C. Hall here. Assistant fire chief E. M. Allen suffered lacerations of both legs when he fell through the second floor while fighting the flames. Investigation led firemen to believe the explosion and fire were caused by leaking gas near the meter.

Moody Praises Efforts Of Board

Lauds Unselfish Devotion To Duty By Directors Of Chamber Of Commerce

In a letter addressed to the members of the board of directors of the New Castle Chamber of Commerce, President W. F. Moody commends the members of the board for their unselfish efforts during the past year in trying to build up the local community.

Mr. Moody's letter follows:
New Castle, Pa., June 4, 1930
To the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce, New Castle, Pa.

Dear Friend—
As our Chamber of Commerce year draws to a close, I feel a strong desire to express in a personal, rather than official capacity, a word of appreciation and approbation to the directors of the Chamber of Commerce for their efforts in behalf of the welfare of the city of New Castle.

A community amounts to the free contributions of its inhabitants to the community at large, and having been in a position to see how unselfishly you have worked, without seeking, and most of the time receiving very little applause; I do not find it possible to finish the year without a personal expression of thanks to you for your loyalty and devotion to the chamber of commerce and the city of New Castle.

The purpose of this letter is not to point with pride or view with alarm any activity of the Chamber of Commerce, but some of our directors have been working faithfully for years, and others just as faithfully for a shorter time and I wish to make note of it in this letter.

Sincerely yours,
W. F. MOODY.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

EDENBURG TO CELEBRATE
Scoutmaster Sidney Smith of Troop 15 will take a group of scouts from that troop to the meeting of interested citizens at Edenburg tonight, the occasion being the annual renewal of charter for the Edenburg scouts. The scoutmaster, assistant and troop committeemen for the ensuing year will be named.

Scoutmaster Mack is desirous of having a good attendance of interested citizens present as the program will include a demonstration by scouts of Troop 15. The Rev. G. S. Bennett, pastor of the First Christian church here and chairman of the Council's court of honor will also accompany the scouts and speak on scout work in general.

Tonight's meeting has been set for the band stand in the town, and will start promptly at 8 o'clock.

TROOP 5 TO MEET

Boys of Elks Troop 5 will meet this evening at the Elks Retreat and a good attendance is urged. Tickets for the mothers', father's and sons' banquet must be returned not later than tonight.

William Haley, scoutmaster.

COLLEGE TOWN TROOP

The regular weekly meeting of the New Wilmington Troop occurred on Tuesday evening. The main event of the evening was the putting up and tearing down of "pup" tents as a practice for a camping trip which the boys will take to Camp John M. Phillips on June 20 and 21.

Troop Seeking Horses For Big Parade Next Week

Local Residents Have Loaned Riding Horses But More Are Needed, Bintrim States

Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, is seeking riding horses to be used in the G. A. R. parade here on next Wednesday, as the troop does not have enough mounts for the entire command.

Several local residents have already offered the use of their riding horses and enough mounts have been secured so far to make a complement of 30 mounted men. More are desired and any person wishing to loan the use of a suitable mount for the occasion is requested to communicate with Lt. Harvey Bintrim, in charge of the troop.

Non-Coms school will be held at the drill grounds at Scotland Lane this evening at 7 o'clock D. S. T.

Friday evening, mounted drill will be held by the troop at the same hour in preparation for the parade next Wednesday and the coming state encampment. Saber and pistol practice will occupy a part of the evening's program.

Rev. S. B. Copeland Returns From General Assembly In Iowa

Rev. S. B. Copeland, pastor of the Third United Presbyterian church returned Wednesday evening from the meeting of the General Assembly of the United Presbyterian churches, which was held this year in Des Moines, Iowa. Mr. Copeland reports that this year's assembly was one of the most interesting and encouraging conventions he has ever attended.

Dr. T. C. Atchison of Lowell, Mass., a member of the Boston Presbytery was chosen moderator for the United States for the coming year.

The union of this denomination with nine Presbyterian denominations was discussed at this time and a committee appointed to go into the matter in detail throughout the coming year and report on it at next year's assembly.

Dr. F. Scott McBride, superintendent of the anti-saloon league in the United States and also a United Presbyterian minister, was heard several times during the convention and he was gratified with the returns from the Primaries and said that each year shows a gain in the Prohibition cause. He also made the address to the Muskingum College banquet that was held during the convention and which was attended by a great many ministers, who were graduates of this institution.

Rev. Copeland arrived in Des Moines in time to attend the pre-assembly evangelistic meeting which stressed the observance of the 190th anniversary of the birth of the church and which will be observed in a large manner in this city Sunday evening with the Pentecostal meeting in the Cathedral.

Rev. Copeland will give a comprehensive and complete report of the workings of the Assembly at the Sunday services in his church.

L. B. McConaghy To Be Graduated

Louis B. McConaghy, son of Mrs. Robert H. McConaghy of North Mulberry street will receive his degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering from Carnegie Institute of Technology at the graduation exercises on Tuesday, June 10.

Immediately following graduation he will leave for Camp Meade, Md., for a period of two weeks. He will serve as a second lieutenant in the signal corps reserves. Returning from camp he will be permanently located at Akron with the Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

Mrs. McConaghy and son, Robert will attend the commencement exercises at Pittsburgh next week.

Auto Dealers To Meet On Friday

Members of the New Castle Auto Dealers Association will hold their weekly meeting in the Elks Club at noon Friday, with President A. C. McCoy in charge.

A special program on the used car program, advocated by the National Association will be brought up for discussion at the meeting and a full attendance of the membership is anticipated.

Texan Tells Of Experiences In Big Tornado

(International News Service)
ELWOOD, Ind., June 5.—Telegraphic dispatches have reported the recent tornadoes in Texas but it remained for D. Preston Calvert, a Texas representative of the G. L. Sellers Company here, to give Elwood a graphic idea of the terrific fury of the Lone Star state storms.

Writing to his firm here from Cisco, Texas, Calvert thus described the tornado through which he passed:

"As I was leaving Cisco a very bad storm appeared to be brewing in the West. As I arrived at Baird, a little town farther west, the storm, proverbially speaking, broke in all its fury, with hail, wind and rain. Not finding any business in this little town of Baird, I started to drive on to Abilene.

"About five miles out, a most formidable storm appeared directly ahead. It proved to be a regular tornado. A 120-mile an hour wind which swept the sand up over this desert country in such volume that I could not see the instruments on my dash board without lights. I was unable to even see even the radiator cap. I was blown off the road at a very convenient spot landing right up in a deep but soft ditch.

"The storm gradually became worse blowing parts of trees, signs, and what not right over my car and I was expecting that every moment would bring something down through the top of the car. This lasted one hour and ten minutes. It then became light and I started to move on, being able to get out of the ditch because of the absence of rainfall.

"Further down the road I found a little two year old boy huddled in a culvert, who had become separated from his parents when their car was demolished. Locating his parents after a while, I started for Abilene with the boy in my car. After about ten miles, a second storm broke that proved worse than the first.

"My car this time was put completely out of commission. I wrapped the little boy in my coat and raincoat. He was suffering terribly from cuts from the sand and needed immediate medical attention. One of his eyes looked to be gone. I started out on foot to find help.

"My coat was ripped off and my shirt was torn in shreds.

"I fought the storm for more than two hours before finding a large bus which had been following me and on which I placed the boy and rode myself to Abilene.

"They have just brought in my car and are going to work on it tonight so that I can continue my trip tomorrow. My face looks like a piece of raw beefsteak.

"I learned that fifteen persons had been either hopelessly crippled or killed in the vicinity of my accident. An extra just out described the storm as the worst ever to visit this part of Texas."

Five In Carnegie Held For Hearing

(International News Service)
CARNEGIE, Pa., June 5.—Five men were held for hearing today and a widespread hunt was being pushed for a sixth man following the alleged slaying of Henry Weinstein, after an automobile in which the men were riding crashed into his automobile parked in front of his home last night.

Weinstein was slugged and knocked through a window in his home when he went out to ascertain the license number of the car that struck his automobile, police said.

Gold Star Mother Severely Injured

(International News Service)
RHEIMS, France, June 5.—Another casualty of the American Gold Star mother's pilgrimage to the battlefields occurred here today when Mrs. D. J. Smith, of Billings, Montana, fell and fractured two ribs.

She was placed under care of physicians at the Hotel Crystal. They are hopeful of an early recovery.

ANNOUNCE COMMITTEE
The committee in charge of the card party this evening in the Lyceum hall of St. Margaret's church

Hsst! a word to the wise outdoor girl

HANDS calloused from golf . . . lips chapped by the wind . . . necks and noses sunburned and freckled . . . here's how to repair this damage.

Lay in a stock of "Vaseline" Petroleum Jelly. At home on the dressing table. At the club in your locker. And apply it freely. For example: If the hands are calloused or rough and chapped, or too dry, or sunburned, or the cuticle is inclined to form hangnails, massage them with a generous amount of "Vaseline" Jelly before retiring and wear soft gloves to bed.

If lips are chapped, apply "Vaseline" Jelly every time you think of it. It is obtainable everywhere, in tubes and jars.

These are simple, easy things to do. Do try them. Your looks will benefit enormously.

KEEN and ALERT at "FOUR" the day's grind demands men of unusual Vitality

"Oh! fine."

you want to feel the same way

BUSINESS today requires that the successful man be physically fit and mentally alert. Men, especially, forget themselves physically. Their work demands practically all their time. They do not exercise enough. They get little or no sunshine. They are robbed of a good appetite . . . and when their red-blood-cells fall below normal their flesh becomes flabby, their nerves unsteady. Their strength must be re-inforced.

Soundness of body and peace of mind depend upon the proper number of red-cells in the blood—5,000,000 to the cubic millimeter. They give blood its color and are carriers of nourishment to every part of the body. It is dangerous to let the red-cell count remain below normal. S.S.S. is a blessing to millions who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It helps Nature build rich, red-blood-cells. It promotes healthy body building. You will be pleased to know that S.S.S. is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs. It is easily assimilated. Pleasant to take.

is taken by many people at least once a year to keep their blood in good condition. Seek energy, vitality and the blessings of good health through this time-tested remedy which has been on the market over 100 years. Take at mealtime. S.S.S. is on sale at all good drug stores in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Makes You Feel Like Yourself Again

Girls Friendly Society

Fifteen members of the Girls Friendly Society of the St. Andrews Episcopal church were entertained Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Josephine Cartwright, of Gibson avenue. Miss Almy Wright led the devotionals, with a Bible discussion conducted by Miss Ann Hitchens following. During the business meeting, it was decided that on July 2, the girls would have a picnic at Cascade Park, marking their next monthly meeting.

A program of entertainment was later enjoyed with the following participating: the Misses Edith Cowden and Rose Florida vocal solos and the Misses Mildred Gregor and Jane Smith with a number of readings.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at an appropriate hour, with Mrs. George Cartwright, assisting her.

As special guests, of the gathering they had Mrs. Mildred Cartwright and daughter Patricia Ann.

Business Men Campaign Against Age Limits On Jobs

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, June 5.—The disquieting tendency recently evident in certain industrial fields to junk the man of forty one the theory that he is ready for the scrapheap was sharply rebuked by business and professional men in a canvass of opinions here.

"They denied unanimously that man should be considered fossilized at 40, or as one writer put it "that some magic power converts one on the fortieth birthday into a doddering, antiquated, irascible biped ready for the junk pile."

H. A. Wagner of Chicago, president of the American Association of Engineers, said:

"The professional man and the engineer feel fit as a fiddle at 40. Physically he is healthy and strong, his training has been tested, his education broadened, his judgment improved, his vision enlarged. Such a person has a right to believe he is at the threshold of real accomplishment."

Available facts, however, vouch for a far less encouraging view. They show that among many leading industrialists and business men of the country, the man of forty is not considered adaptable, amiable, even-tempered or progressive. His request for a job will be met with cold stares.

Statistics on the subject bring these facts to the forefront.

Out of 5,800 persons above 35 who applied for work within eighteen months in a New York employment office only 200 were employed.

Age, not ability, determined hiring and firing in numerous cases.

Fire at 40 but do not hire is the increasing slogan of big business.

America is the only country which makes age discrimination.

Firing rate is greater than the hiring rate.

Chronological age is an inadequate measure of ability.

Wage gain in the last two years is counteracted by unemployment increase.

Mergers and machinery are reducing professional, executive, clerical and industrial workers.

Group insurance and pensions militate against the older worker.

Commenting on the above facts, Mr. Wagner said that the employer who holds that young employees are most stylish also knows they are cheaper.

"But he might add," he asserted, "that they are also inexperienced and immature, undisciplined, changeable and impatient. Young employees are frequently conceited, prejudiced, indifferent, unreasonable, tactless and wasteful."

It was argued that if persons at 40 are not amiable, adaptable and the like, then all diplomats in history should have been young men. The public, according to opinions, relies on age for the fulfillment of weightier tasks, and certainly in many of the professions, such as law, medicine, construction projects and others.

"If this vicious practice is not stopped," it was stated, "and the work span is to be shortened, why not spend good billions to increase the life span? If a man cannot get or hold a job after he is forty, why should scientists seek to prolong life? The reverse would be more humane if the last half of life is to be spent in uselessness, idleness and often penury."

Meanwhile, a movement has been put afoot here to put on old-age pension law on the statute books of the state. Efforts are being made to interest the American Federation of Labor in the project.

75 Students Tell Of Their Fitness For Edison Award

Pennsylvania High School Graduates To Take Examinations

HARRISBURG, June 5.—The department of public instruction today announced the receipt of 75 applications from members of this year's high school graduating classes who desire to take the Edison scholarship examination. These candidates represent high schools in 31 counties of the state. In the age range, two of the applicants are 20 years old and two are only 15.

Each application was accompanied by a biographical sketch and photograph of the candidate. Some of the biographical sketches disclose originality and creative ability, officials said.

Among the unique sketches is one describing a turtle feeding device by which flies are electrocuted. Another represents a Japanese boy whose father is a Yale graduate and whose grandfather invented several amusement devices. Another candidate is a writer. Several of his science fiction articles have been accepted by scientific magazines. Among the other candidates are ambitious boys who have been handicapped through the death of a father. In spite of this, they are completing their high school work and are anxious to go through college.

The examination will be conducted in the house chamber of the capitol on Saturday, June 7, beginning at 9 a. m.

Mercer Court Sets Date For Hearing Constables' Cases

District Attorney Seeks Dismissal Of Pair; Another Constable Held For Court

MERCER, Pa., June 5.—The date of June 16th was set to-day by Judge J. A. McLaughry as that when hearings will be held on the two petitions of District Attorney Leo McKay asking dismissal of Tony Morocco, constable in Farrell, and Frank Brennan, a constable of Sharon.

Petitions were filed some weeks ago by the county prosecutor asking that the court take summary action in the case of these officers. There were three petitions filed, a third being presented against William Douglas of Clarksville who has since resigned his office. It is claimed by the attorney that the books of the Saxon Club of Farrell raided in March involved Douglass and Morocco.

Brennan is implicated because of his alleged presence in the Robert Emmett Club in Sharon at the time that the club was raided.

The judge set June 3rd as return on these petitions at the time of their filing.

An agreement was reached at the Monday court session between attorneys representing the constables and the court to hold the hearing on June 16th.

It is certain to be of a spicy character, Morocco when questioned why his name appeared on the club books as receiving money stated it was not him but man of same name.

Brennan when asked about his being at the club stated he was attending a meeting and had nothing to do with the drinking or liquor found in the club.

Under the law the court has authority to remove from office if he is convinced that the officers are guilty. The judge however will be slow in taking action unless thoroughly convinced.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

FORESIGHT

You may think most of man's trouble comes from inability to see around the corner. Not so. We often have a great deal of foresight. We can see around the corner all right, but we have too little sound sense to act on what we see. Wanting what we want, we buy this or invest in that—bandaging our foresight. It is not that we can not see. It is that we do not wish to see.

HULL HOUSE

The great and the humble pay proper honor and respect to Jane Addams, one of the founders of Hull House, noted Chicago social settlement. A legion of lives have been changed from bad to good by the vision, the tireless patience, the indomitable industry of Jane Addams. She is Ellen Gates Starr founded Hull House forty years ago. Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain sends a cable on the anniversary.

It is a tremendous thing—the greatest thing in the world—to invest one's life in such a way as to pay everlasting debts to humanity.

MEN IN THE HOME

Listen to Marion McClench, president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs. She thinks that by 1950 women may be the family wage earners. Men may sit at home, darn the socks and help the babies blow their noses. She says a woman can be anything a man can be—except a father. Well, women are already, by thousands, wage earners. One would think they would like home better. But one never can tell.

AS WOMEN SMOKE

Fires in dormitories at Smith college, caused by cigarette in waste baskets, bring on a rule restricting smoking to certain fireproof rooms. President Nelson, of Smith, says: "The trouble is, my dear young ladies, you do not smoke like gentlemen."

Women have done fairly well in imitating the bad habits of men. The next thing is to get the technique down to a little finer point. Let them, indeed, learn to smoke like gentlemen. And why not cigars?

THE IDEA OF GOD

An investigator says the child's idea of God is vague. Well, that's not much to worry about. Most people's idea of God is vague. That's not the important thing. Our idea may always be vague. Man isn't smart enough to figure out a very definite, clear idea about it. But the average human does know up from down, and he should have the intelligence and the will to act in accordance with what knowledge he has.

Treasure Chests Will Be Sent Soon

Chests Packed By The Children
Of City Schools To Go To Philippines Next Week

Who has not felt a thrill of joy course through the veins upon receiving a package whose contents are unknown, and how much enjoyment will fill the hearts of the children of the Philippine Islands upon receiving the treasure chests that have been filled by the children of the United States, to be sent to these Filipinos, when upon receiving and opening same will find all kinds of toys, books, tooth paste, brushes, pencils, paints and even yo-yos, which have so delighted the children of the states the past few weeks.

Mrs. W. L. Cosel, chairman of the committee on international relationship, announces that these chests will be packed Monday by the Girl Scouts and the Girl reserves of the city and made ready for shipment. This movement is one that fits in with the international peace and good will movement that has been stressed so hard the past few months not only in our city but throughout the world and it is to be hoped that this bit will prove of great benefit.

Super-Structure Work Will Start

Construction material for the super-structure of the new Epworth M. E. church at East Washington street and Butler avenue is being placed at the present time and work on the building proper should begin in about 10 days.

Exterior stone has been ordered and will reach here in 10 days. Finishing touches are now being placed on the foundation.

5 Pounds In 20 Days

Arkansas Woman Greatly
Pleased With Her
New Figure

Read how Mrs. Willa Pugsley of Arkansas gained nearly 5 pounds in less than 20 days: "McCoy's Cod Liver Oil Extract Tablets have worked wonders for me. Have nearly finished the second box, feeling better in every way and have taken on nearly five pounds of flesh, much to my delight. I can recommend McCoy's to do all they claim."

A New Jersey boy gained 10 pounds in 21 days; a New York mother and daughter gained 7 pounds. And in fact men, women and children everywhere are gaining new weight, strength, vitality and energy from McCoy's.

The reason is that McCoy's have the same marvelous flesh-forming vitamins as liquid cod liver oil; and in this respect are hundreds of times richer than even milk, butter, eggs or cream. The vitamins are directly extracted from Norwegian cod liver oil and sealed under a pleasant sugar coat.

Read McKee's, Eckerd's, Love and Megown's remarkable MONEY BACK offer—McCoy's are guaranteed to give any man, woman or child the increased weight desired or purchase price refunded. Just ask for McCoy's—60 tablets 60 cents.

a grand total of flavor, pep and health

TASTE THEM! Only Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes have that matchless flavor—that good-to-the-last-spoonful crispness.

Brimful of vim and zest. Full of crunchy wheat. All the nourishment of the whole grain.

Plus extra bran for extra health. Just enough added fiber to be mildly laxative.

Flavor, pep and health—all combined. That's why Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are better bran flakes.

Great for breakfast. Fine for lunch. A special treat for children at every meal. Serve with fruits or honey—with milk or cream.

Look for the red-and-green package at your grocer's. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

IMPORTANT—Kellogg's Pep Bran Flakes are mildly laxative. ALL-BRAN—another Kellogg product—is all bran and guaranteed to relieve both temporary and recurring constipation.

Tedious Job To Lay Foundation For New Church

Quicksand Delays Work On New Epworth Church, Corner Of Butler Avenue

It will probably be three more weeks before the foundation of the new Epworth M. E. church, at the corner of East Washington street and Butler avenue, is laid. Immediately upon completion of the foundation, contractors will start in with the stone work.

Because of the unusual amount of quicksand, a gray, sticky mire that is prevalent, the foundation work has been delayed considerably. When the job was started, the contractors had hoped to complete it by the first of June.

At the north end of the large plot of ground it was necessary to go down 12 feet before firm enough ground for the foundation could be found.

President Hoover has approved the White bill calling for an expenditure of $1,735,000 in construction of additional cultural fish stations in the United States. Ah, me! What price education?—The Omaha Evening World-Herald.

Thrift Awards At Washington

Pupils Of Junior High School Given Recognition For Saving

SIX HAVE RECORD OF SAVING NINE YEARS

Special thrift exercises were held at the George Washington Junior High School and 338 awards were presented to students, who had saved regularly. Two grades, 8B2 of which Miss E. Verna Willett is teacher, and 7A1 of which Miss Harriet Ewing is teacher, received 100 per cent thrift certificates for the grade. In order to receive this recognition every student in the grade had to save at least one coin a week throughout the entire year.

The other grades having the best record were as follows: 7B1 and 8A2 were tied for third place; 9A3 was fourth; 7B2 was fifth and 8B3 and 9A6 were tied for sixth place.

The awards were presented on the basis of regularity and those saving small coins weekly received the same credit as those saving larger coins.

Six had saved a coin a week for nine years: thirteen had saved regularly for eight years; thirty-six for seven years; twenty-three for six years; thirty for five years; thirty-seven for four years; thirty-five for three years; fifty-two for two years and one hundred and five for one year.

Feeling Thrifty?..

WANT to cut car costs? Who doesn't, on occasions! We know how it is... so does Goodrich, whose tires we sell.

Goodrich, you see, realizes that all of us like a bargain now and then. But they can't see why a bargain tire can't be a good tire.

So their engineers got together awhile back. Set out to build an outstanding tire at a sensationally low price. A tire that could carry the name Goodrich. A tire that would live up to Goodrich standards on the road.

Result... the Cavalier. Big and husky. Oversize in air cushion. Thicker and tougher in tread. Built to fight off rough roads and high speeds and take its own sweet time about wearing out.

But—built to sell at prices that beat even ordinary tires for real savings.

We've got a full stock of Cavaliers on hand right now. All sizes... including a couple for trucks. And as our contribution to this money-saving party, we're offering them at special prices. Cutting the figures even lower than they usually are.

We want you to see this tire. Want you to look over our prices. Come in... see what we've got... and you'll walk out with a nice saving in your pocket!

Girls Should Register For Camp East Brook

Camp Will Open June 30 And Season Will Last Until August 23

All girls who wish to stay at Camp East Brook, Y. W. C. A. girls camp during this season, should register at the office of the Y. W. C. A. as soon as possible. The camp officially opens on the last day of this month and will close August 23.

Capacity of the camp is 50 and because of that, the first girls registered will be assured of a period at the camp. Camp East Brook, this summer, will be under the direction of Miss Dorothy Stewart, Y. W. C. A. health director. Miss Stewart will be assisted by competent camp counselors. In addition, there will be a camp dietitian and Red Cross life savers and physicians will be within call.

One of the many attractions at the camp, this year, will be the bathing pool on the grounds, which is now under construction. The pool is 75 feet by 25 feet and will be for the private use of those attending the camp.

Between June 30 and July 12, girls of ages between 10 and 14 will occupy the camp. From July 12 to July 19, the Queen Esther Missionary conference will be held there. From July 19 to 20, the Business Girls will enjoy a week end there. From July 21 to July 22, the Scout street girls will be there. From July 23 to August 9, the camp will accommodate Junior high school girls. Business girls will have another week end August 9 and 10 and from August 11 to 23 the senior high school girls and business girls will enjoy a stay.

Before June 30, all registrations

Volant College Reunion June 25

Will Be Made A Big Community Affair On This Occasion

After a lapse of five years, graduates and former students of Volant College, and many former and present residents of that little community, will gather together on the campus of the former college on June 25 for a reunion.

It is anticipated that after this extended period of time that several hundred persons will make a special effort to be there and take part in the proceedings of the day.

Mrs. George W. Patterson is secretary of the School Association and invitations will be sent out in a few days to those whom the event is expected to interest.

The community is also taking an active interest in the affair and scores of the old time residents of the place are expected to be present.

There will be a fine program and also a big noon day dinner on the campus, if weather permits and in case of unfavorable weather it will be held in the Volant Presbyterian church.

Mrs. Frances White, daughter of former Police Chief Frank Rasette of Watsonville, Cal., recently completed an exhibit of antique automobiles at San Jose. The exhibits include a Holman car built in 1893 which cranks from the side, and a Sunset, built in San Jose.

Pennsylvania Has One Automobile To Every 6.85 Persons

California Leads All States Of Union With One Machine To Each 2.64 Persons

There is an average of one automobile to every 6.85 persons in Pennsylvania, compared to an average of one to every 5.3 persons in the United States, according to Ralph W. Belsinger, president of the New Castle Motor Club, which is affiliated with the American Automobile Association.

Mr. Belsinger pointed out that there is one car to every 2.64 persons in California, which is the leading state in the Union in this respect. The state of Georgia has one car to each 10.32 persons. Washington, the Nation's capital, has one auto to every 4.16 persons.

The local official said that the estimate for the United States is based on a registration of 26,301,553 automobiles.

New York lead the list in total registration, with 1,922,063 passenger cars, although it is thirty-fourth on the list of states for cars in proportion to population, having one car for every 6.12 persons.

There is one car to every 54.6 persons throughout the world, the high figure of the United States being due to the fact that this country has 76 per cent of all motor vehicles.

In China there is one car to every 12,258 persons and in Ethiopia one to every 17,781. Australia has one car to every ten persons.

Authority Discusses Cancer

Dr. Joseph Colt Bloodgood, professor of clinical surgery, Johns Hopkins University, famous surgeon and international authority on cancer will be the guest speaker for the Lawrence County Medical society, June 13th at the New Castle Field club.

Dr. Bloodgood has written a series of articles for the press on cancer, the first of which follows and one will appear in these columns each day for five days.

ARTICLE II. The Danger Signals Of Cancer

Any lump, especially in the female breast. The moment you feel a lump anywhere, on yourself or on one of your children, go to your doctor and ask him to feel it. Don't wait until it is "ripe enough."

The majority of lumps at first are not cancer, and if removed will protect you from cancer.

Any elevated, pigmented wart or mole, any irritation of the skin with scales, or is weeping, any unhealed sore or wound, should never be neglected. The danger of cancer is almost as great in them as the danger of blood poisoning when you neglect a fresh cut or wound. Care and cleanliness of the skin, and the early consultation with your doctor the moment any defect is observed will absolutely protect you from cancer.

No beautiful woman ever gets cancer of the skin, except on the nose from the neglect of the irritation of the tight fitting glasses.

Any sore or white patch in the mouth may be a sign of trouble. Cancer of the mouth only occurs from the irritation of ragged dirty teeth, tobacco, and ill fitting plates. Everyone under the care of a good dentist is protected from cancer of the teeth.

Beware of anyone that tells you that the pain in the region of a bone or joint is "rheumatism," a "bruise" or a "charlie horse." Ask your doctor to take an X-ray film at once. This reveals trouble in the bone and in time to save your life and your limb.

Any indigestion which means any unusual message in the shape of a new sensation from abdomen should be answered at once by going to your doctor and saying: "Doctor look at my stomach and colon with X-rays." The X-ray is to the stomach and the colon as the X-ray is to the bone—like a magnet that finds the trouble, and if you go in time, will save your life.

Periodic examinations. Married women who have borne children can get full protection from cancer of the cervix only through periodic examinations. It is not enough to seek an examination once the moment you observe anything unusual in the monthly period or its reappearance after the change of life.

Select your family physician while you are well, make friends with him, ask him about the rules of health, take care of the skin and the mouth, the proper and essential food, your proper weight and hours sleep and exercise; establish now with your family physician your time of periodic examination and conversation. He will tell you what pamphlets and books to read.

Tomorrow: "Cancer of the Skin and Mouth are Preventable Diseases."

He Is a Different Kind of 'Mama's Boy'

Mrs. Kaiser Didn't Raise Her Son to Be a Prize Fighter, But Now That He Is One, She Is Ready to Act as His Banker and Adviser life, and that was forced on him. "Why, he was such an easy-going child that a little girl, with whom he used to play in the back yard, beat him up regularly every day," said Mrs. Frances Kaiser, the mother. "He wouldn't fight back. Just stood there and took it until one day I whipped him and made him go out and defend himself."

Didn't Tell the Folks.

So that was the kind of a boy Johnny Kaiser was until he reached his 15th birthday. On that day he chanced to drop around to the Athletic club. A boxing program had been arranged, but a flyweight was belt, Johnny Kaiser became a ring cago," smiled Johnny the other day at his training quarters. "Mother said that the trip was too much for me, so I went to Chicago alone. When my turn came to box, I walked into the ring and who should be there but mother sitting there at the ringside adviser. There is a man's age for that work. But she sits there, a proud little mother with prayer no doubt in her heart, confident that her boy Johnny will get one across to the solar plexus that will mean one more victory chalked up."

But he didn't tell his folks. Thought they might object, so he got her, so I went to Chicago alone. When my turn came to box, I walked into the ring and who should be there but mother sitting there at the ringside adviser. There is a man's age for that work. But she sits there, a proud little mother with prayer no doubt in her heart, confident that her boy Johnny will get one across to the solar plexus that will mean one more victory chalked up."

An Unusual Mother.

And right then was when Mrs. Frances Kaiser showed that she was er. Fact is, he likes to talk about a most unusual mother. She had a natural abhorrence for prize fighting. There was an odium to the name that she did not wish one of her sons to carry. She had other ambitions for her oldest child. But instead of whipping Johnny and older heads in the same told me making all sorts of threats as to that the average big earning years what she would do if he didn't stop boxing, she swallowed her fears and encouraged him. "I realized that I wanted to make boxing my profession and I had no intention of working hard and having nothing when I got through. I turned over my first purse to my mother. I told her to do with it as she observed the other day. "So I told Johnny to go ahead. It hurt, but I thought that was the best way to cure him. Well, there wasn't a cure. The more he fought, the better he liked it. And then I made a startling discovery. Johnny had always been a weakling. That's why his friends called him 'Peewee.' He weighed only 75 pounds when he was 15 years old. But boxing developed him. He gained in health and he was so enthusiastic over the sport that he followed every rule laid down by the trainers at the various athletic clubs where he fought. He kept regular hours, he followed a rigid course of exercises and much as I hated to admit it, I couldn't see that he was suffering any from his associates."

Faithful Trainer. Mrs. Kaiser does more than bank her son's prize money. She has made a study of boxing as a profession. She knows as well as any trainer what her son needs to get him in condition for a fight. She sees to it that he gets his regular quota of sleep. With her own hands she prepares every morsel of food he eats and sees that it is ready for him at exactly the right hour. She tells him when it is time for his road work, sees that he gets off to the gymnasium for daily workout and in every other way performs the duties of a faithful and efficient trainer.

The First Knockout. So Mrs. Kaiser was a big enough woman to admit that one of the first knockouts administered by her son was herself. She surrendered completely, so completely that long before Johnny quit the amateur ranks and turned professional, she was an enthusiastic follower of the game, and he never fought in or near home that his mother did not have a ring-side seat. "I'll never forget the time I boxed in the Dexter Park Pavilion in Chicago," he said. "I was so nervous that I couldn't see straight. I was so nervous that I couldn't see straight. I was so nervous that I couldn't see straight."

At the Dexter Park Pavilion in Chicago.

ser at the numerous bouts in which Johnny participated, say that she appears to be the least nervous of any person in the house. She calmly takes her seat at the ringside waves a hand of greeting when he enters the ring and then with eyes that gleam through tensely drawn lids, watches the battle. Never does the fighting get so furious that she rises to her feet and add her shout to the tumult of the other spectators. I never does she essay the role of ringside adviser. There is a man's age for that work. But she sits there, a proud little mother with prayer no doubt in her heart, confident that her boy Johnny will get one across to the solar plexus that will mean one more victory chalked up."

Partners.

Johnny told more about his mother. Fact is, he likes to talk about a most unusual mother. She had a natural abhorrence for prize fighting. There was an odium to the name that she did not wish one of her sons to carry. She had other ambitions for her oldest child. But instead of whipping Johnny and older heads in the same told me making all sorts of threats as to that the average big earning years what she would do if he didn't stop boxing, she swallowed her fears and encouraged him. "I realized that I wanted to make boxing my profession and I had no intention of working hard and having nothing when I got through. I turned over my first purse to my mother. I told her to do with it as she observed the other day. "So I told Johnny to go ahead. It hurt, but I thought that was the best way to cure him. Well, there wasn't a cure. The more he fought, the better he liked it. And then I made a startling discovery. Johnny had always been a weakling. That's why his friends called him 'Peewee.' He weighed only 75 pounds when he was 15 years old. But boxing developed him. He kept regular hours, he followed a rigid course of exercises and much as I hated to admit it, I couldn't see that he was suffering any from his associates."

We are quite aware that in the idiom of the street, this story of Johnny Kaiser and his mother sounds like the "bunk." It has the tang of a freshly spun tale, but the facts of the matter are that every word of it is true.

BLUBBER AIDS RADIO IN ARCTIC CIRCLE

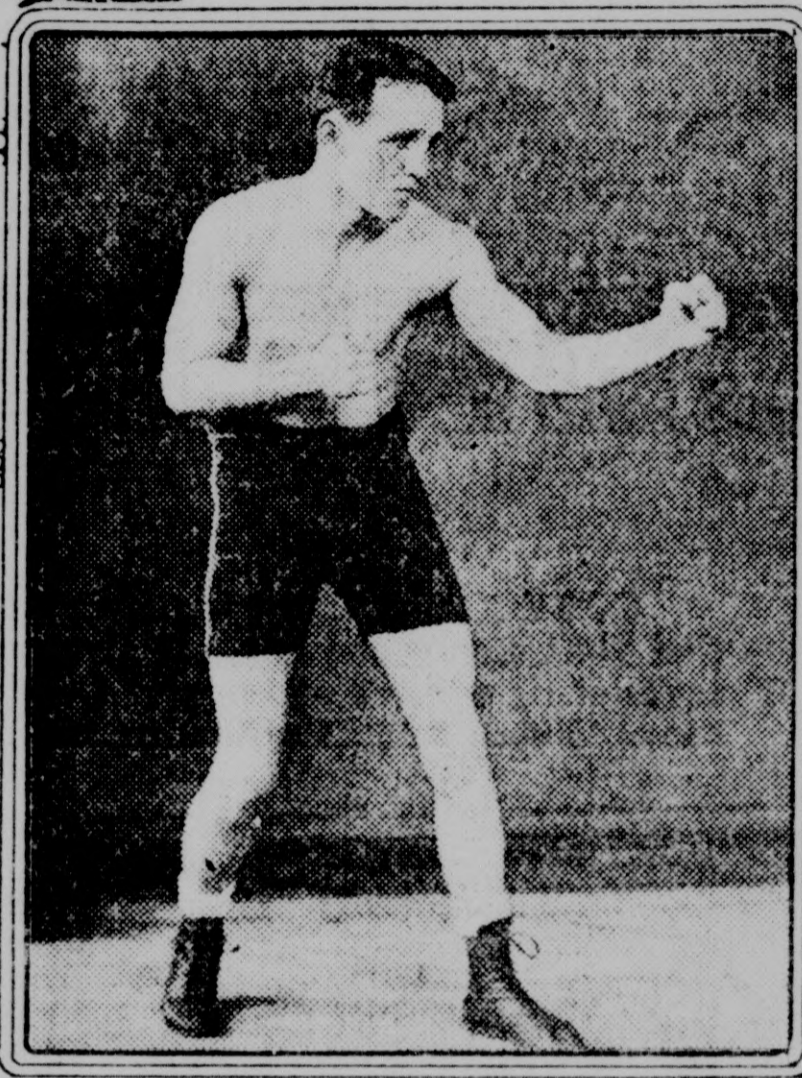

RADIO above the Arctic circle has its troubles but during all the short three months of Summer reception is nearly perfect according to Grant Raymond, youthful manager of the Hudson's Bay Company trading post at Point Barrow, Alaska. He uses an eight-tube receiving set that was transported by sledge on a three-week trip to reach him. His extra supply of batteries and tubes has to be kept packed in blubber and near a stove to prevent their freezing. He says the Northern nights set up no interferences upon radio reception that cannot be eliminated by careful aerial tuning.

Hugo Holten-Moeller, manager of radio station OGG at Godhavn, Greenland, reports that the aurora has no effect whatever in that region. A comparison of static on his receiving set and magnetic disturbances recorded by the magnetic observatory at Godhavn have shown no relation between the two.

Those who have seen Mrs. Kaiser.

This is the firm of Frances and Johnny Kaiser, Inc. — mother and son. Johnny does the fighting and his mother does the banking. The firm is solvent and expects to do business at the old stand for many years to come.

Johnny "Peewee" Kaiser, featherweight boxer, who never feels quite right unless his mother is at the ringside to see him fight.

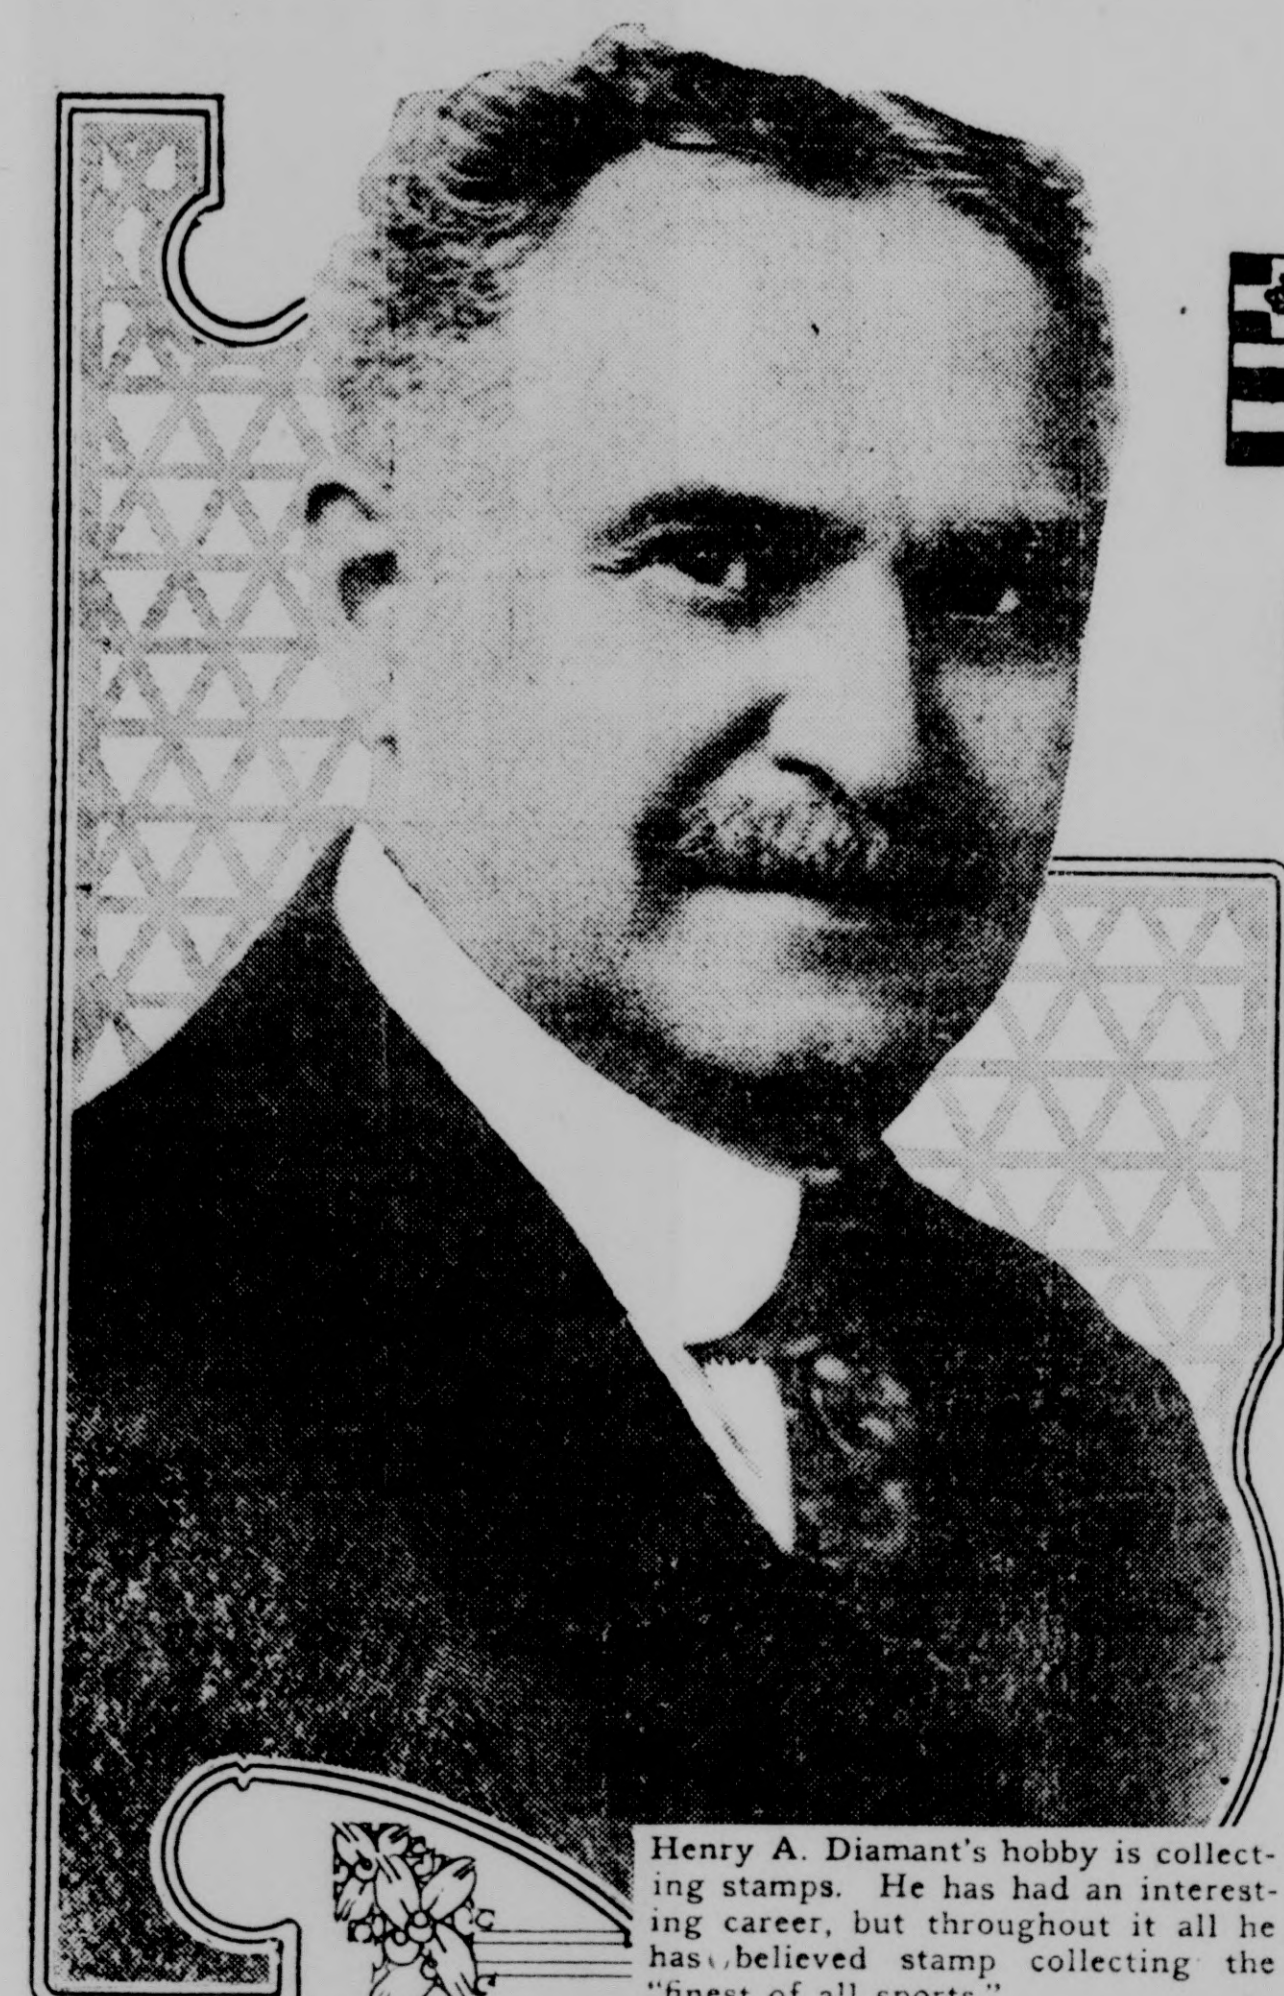

(By St. Louis Globe-Democrat)

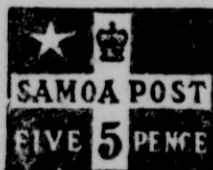

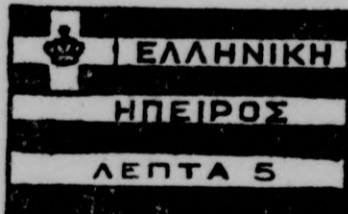

JOHNNY "PEEWEE" KAISER, a not even in the moments of his high featherweight boxer, who has est success. He has many friends, some eighty-seven official and he is congenial with them, but fights to his credit and whose prowess with his fists is a matter of local pugilistic history, comes dangerously close to being a "mamma's boy." Now, don't get the idea that there is anything puerile about this 23-year-old lad, who can sock with either fist and who isn't averse to taking one on the chin if he can give one. Don't get the idea that because this rising young boxer has made his mother his confidant and adviser, he is tied to her apron strings, or anything like that. Oh, no; the wee one is plenty capable of taking care of himself, as numerous sturdy adversaries have reason to believe.

A Good Boy. "Peewee" is a different sort of a boxer. He is by nature gentle. The bright lights have never lured him, only witnesses every bout in which he participates close to home, but she also handles all the money that he takes in via the boxing route. She banks his earnings under her own name and "Peewee" is quite content to let her act in this fiduciary capacity. She is not his official manager, because a man has carried that responsibility for several years, but she is in every other respect the "handler" of this most unusual boxer, who is not ashamed to acknowledge the fact. That's what was meant when it was said that he is a "mamma's boy." For those who misinterpret this to mean that he is a sissy, the line forms to the right and Johnny will accommodate each and every doubter by knocking him out with one well-directed blow to the "button."

His First Gloves. When Johnny Kaiser was 4 years old—he was born twenty-three years ago—he was given a pair of boxing gloves by his grandmother. This one suggested that Johnny put on grandparent explained her gift as the gloves. After some coaxing he one of necessity. Every boy must did, and he won the decision. Per-learn to fight, she said. But Johnny haps it was a zest for fighting that Kaiser was not the fighting kind, he inherited from his father, Wil-He wouldn't even argue, and ac-lliam Kaiser, who in his early days cording to his mother, he has in- had done some amateur boxing. Henry A. Diamant's hobby is collecting stamps. He has had an interesting career, but throughout it all he has believed stamp collecting the "finest of all sports."

Hunting stamps—as an artist sees the sport of stamp collecting.

Stamp Hunting Is a "Fine Sport"

IT was an unkind fate that thrust the name philately on the pastime of studying and collecting stamps. For what can the average person do but think of the adult stamp collector as one of dry technicalities and unsocial tendencies when he is burdened with the title, philatelist? And if the popular imagination is to be at all straightened out on the subject there is one person, at least, who can refute any idea of the stamp collector as an uninteresting oddity.

Henry A. Diamant has one of the largest and most valuable collections of stamps in the country, and he is a great enthusiast on the subject. But he is neither dry nor uninteresting. While Diamant can talk at length on the fascinations of stamp collecting, his own career is a more powerful refutation of any idea that the collecting of stamps by a serious minded adult is rather a queer thing.

Started Young. Diamant caught the stamp collecting fever from some of his schoolmates when he was 9 years old, and began by pasting stamps around the margin of his geography pages. Saturday afternoons he worked for a stamp dealer from whom he had bought his first book of illustrations of stamps, and took his pay not in money, but in stamps. And from that day, more than fifty years ago, to this, Diamant has been collecting stamps.

He went to school and studied law in a law office, then he shifted suddenly and became an actor. For fourteen years he followed the stage as a career. From the 50-cent-evening parts as one in the mob scenes, with the extra duties of a sort of glorified janitor and property man, he became an actor of some reputation under the name of Martin Hayden. He was in the Charles Frohman company and appeared in productions by other well known producers. Later he became a producer in his own right. He went to London and while there supervised the first showing of motion pictures at the Olympia, where he was a director.

His Hobby.

But during all this time he had not given up his hobby of collecting stamps. People came to know him as a philatelist and brought stamps which they thought interesting to him and told him where he might secure more stamps. So Diamant's collection grew.

When he returned to this country from London after the close of the Olympic, he intended going into the theater business, but the plans for it did not work out and Diamant looked about him for some other business opportunity. He did not wish to go back to the stage because of the And from that day, more than fifty from his family, and he foresaw the encroachments that motion pictures would make on the legitimate stage. So when the opportunity to go into business offered itself Diamant grasped it.

Plays Important Part.

It was here that Diamant's stamp collection came into good use and played a rather romantic part in his business career. Diamant needed money to take advantage of the business opportunity, and looking over his assets his stamp collection loomed large. He had many duplicate stamps, so that he could afford to sell some of his collection without the collector's qualm of giving it all up.

Perhaps this brief sketch of Diamant's life is enough to show that the collecting of stamps is in no wise limited to dried up, uninteresting old men and small boys. Diamant today, with his large brown eyes and wavy white hair, looks perhaps more the actor than the business man.

The collection of rare stamps which he has made up largely of early American, Mexican and first issues of Cape of Good Hope stamps. Diamant will not say what his collection is worth, but some of the stamps are valuable enough to keep in a safe deposit vault, and he admits that their value runs up into six figures. And his collection of many-colored stamps of varied designs pasted neatly in their albums, furnish him not only many an evening's recreation after a day's work, but have an educational value also, he says.

Good Investment.

"When I sold part of my first collection of stamps, twenty-eight years ago, and got the money to invest in the commission business," Diamant explains, "I hardly believed that there would be such a keen interest by collectors to buy them. But on the strength of that, sale I renewed my efforts to acquire a valuable collection, believing that stamps bought with good judgment are a sound investment.

While, as Diamant explains, the more common stamps printed in numbers from 1,000,000 to many millions, make a general collection interesting, and account for the growing popularity of stamp collecting, it is the rare stamps which give the collector's hunt more zest and which are of course more valuable.

"For instance," Diamant declares, "there are only a few copies of the Mauritius stamp known to be in existence and when one is offered for sale it brings about $7,500. It is therefore simple to deduce that if there are still in existence 1,000 stamps of any issue they must be worth $100 to $1,000 each."

Diamant himself can give at least one experience by which he turned over a very quick profit by buying a rare stamp.

"Some years ago I acquired a postmaster's stamp from Gollad, Tex.," he recounts. "It was a postmaster's provisional stamp, issued during the civil war. One copy which I had purchased for $275 I sold a few months later for $700 and I am satisfied now that the owner would not take $1,000 for it."

"Stamp hunting is as fascinating as any sport. The excitement of the chase for game, the prospect of finding precious metal in the ground, has no greater thrills than seeking rare stamps, ransacking old trunks and boxes stored away in garrets or warehouses to find a rare stamp or the original envelope."

"About the only thing that I have tried to collect during my lifetime is money," Diamant tells one, "and I don't suppose I have been as successful as some of the collectors who have been successful with that as with stamps."

A few of the scarcest of private issues by postmasters before the regular U.S. stamps were issued. They are worth several thousand dollars apiece.

No man is worth his salt who is not ready at all times to risk his well-being, to risk his life, in a great cause.

"Wet" Plank Adopted By State Democrats

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, June 5.—A wet plank, adopted by the state committee without more than a murmur from the dry members, today was part of the Democratic party platform in Pennsylvania.

The action, taken here yesterday afternoon after a recess during the state committee meeting, marked the hopes of the Democrats that those disgruntled voters, dissatisfied with the outcome of the Republican primary, will vote a wet Democratic ticket rather than form a third party for the general election in November.

Immediate repeal of the Snyder-Armstrong act, Pennsylvania's teeth in the prohibition laws and repeal of the 18th amendment to the federal constitution, is advocated by the party.

Protests at Minimum.

The surprising feature of the meeting was not the adoption of the wet plank but the lack of opposition from the dry members of the committee. In spite of their minority a strong protest from the arid ones had been anticipated.

Political observers peeping beneath the surface, saw, or professed to see in the Democratic committee action the swing of the pendulum away from the dry sentiment as part of the national movement attributed to straw balloting, given impetus in New Jersey when Dwight W. Morrow announced a wet platform for his senatorial campaign and added to by the Washington Republicans, after which numerous days of long standing in congress announced their readiness to accept a referendum.

Against High Tariff.

Closer at hand and more pertinent was the vote rolled up by the avowed wet candidates in the recent primary and the resultant preemption of a party title for a liberal element. In the support of that element plus the hope that Gifford Pinchot's repeated attacks upon the "Philadelphia gang" shall alienate the affections of numerous regular Republicans, lies the possibility of a Democratic victory at the polls in November.

In addition to the stand against the prohibition amendment, the party took the classic stand against high tariff, issued a warning against "chain banks", advocated freeing the public service commission from "all coercion even from a governor," pledged an "honest effort" to reduce the burden of taxation, "specifically the gasoline tax" and suggested changes in the coal and iron police organization.

John R. Collins of Coudersport was re-elected state chairman, with Mrs. Kathryn S. Flohr of Allentown, vice-chairman, and Meredith N. Myers of Lewistown, treasurer.

Cruelty Charges Are Denied By Husband

Mrs. Jennie Perchinovich has filed an application at the prothonotary's office for a divorce from her husband, Marco Perchinovich, on the grounds of cruelty and adultery. They were married in May, 1913, and lived together until May 1930.

Mr. Perchinovich has filed an answer to the application in which he denies both charges, claiming that he has always been a good husband.

Charter Is Asked For Old Cemetery

Application for a charter for the Briar Hill cemetery in Hickory township has been made to court by Attorney Walter S. Reynolds and others. The cemetery is adjacent to the site of a Methodist church that once stood not far from Lakewood. It will be necessary to get a deed from the Methodist conference in order to residents of Hickory township are buried in this old cemetery. It has been fairly well kept up, and there is a considerable fund on hand with which it is proposed to further beautify it when the charter is secured.

The local delegates will stay at Camp Mace.

Christian Church Undergoes Repairs

The official board and congregation of the First Christian church are making plans for a complete renovation of their church on the public square.

Work has already begun on the outside of the church, the renewing of all iron work and spouting being underway but the contracts have not yet been let for the inside improvements.

A complete new lighting system will be installed, the pulpit arrangement will be changed, the entire building will be repainted and redecorated and new furniture for the pulpit, in the most modern style will be installed.

The changes in the building will run into several thousand dollars and the church will be one of the handsomest in the city upon completion.

Plans Made To Inquire Into Public Plot For Burial Of World War Veterans

Subscribe $25 To G. A. R. Encampment Fund; Poppy Committee Reports

Members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, discussed the matter of securing a plot for the burial of World War veterans of the vicinity at their meeting in the Legion Home Association building last evening.

A committee consisting of Ivor V. Davis and A. F. Miller was named to communicate with local cemeteries on the proposal, which has been brought up on several previous occasions, but which has never been satisfactorily settled.

The post voted to contribute $25 to the G. A. R. encampment fund.

A report was received from Chairman Claple of the Poppy Day committee and in token of his services on this occasion, was presented with a white gold membership button by the post.

Like brand new automobiles these

Good Will used cars

are sold with a written guaranty

Now, thanks to the Oakland-Pontiac "Good Will" policy, used cars can be purchased with a written Guaranty, like brand new automobiles. This Guaranty indicates that each car has been inspected and tested by expert mechanics in our own shops to give lasting service. And as final assurance of outstanding quality, it permits you to exchange your purchase within 48 hours, if not completely satisfied. See the extraordinary specials listed below. Many are less than a year old—all are in splendid condition and are fully equipped—each one is priced way below its actual value. Buy within the next 3 days and save!

Funds Needed To Meet Expense Of Encampment

Every Citizen Of New Castle May Have Part In Glorious Affair

WILL PLACE CITY IN THE LIMELIGHT

The golden opportunity of the city is right at hand, the encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic on what is indicated to be the last assembly of the men of 1861-65 in the state of Pennsylvania in regular encampment.

Next week the city will be host to the survivors of the historic Civil War, the widows and wives of men who fought in that war, their sons, daughters, grandsons and grand daughters and even their great grandsons and great grand daughters.

It is desired that the encampment in this city shall be one that will go down in history as the outstanding event of its kind. It shall take at least $5,000 to meet the expenses of this affair. It means that the city will be host to approximately ten thousand people during the coming week.

This is the occasion when every patriotic citizen, who can, will have the opportunity of helping out. Gifts of money will be appreciated by the encampment committee, whether great or small. It is hoped that all will do the best they can.

The latest gifts reported by R. L. Meermans, chairman of the finance committee included the following from the employees of Wright's Market: A. A. Flynn $1; C. M. Eddy, $1; Tillie Remley $1; Carl Ulrich 50c; Walter Bixler $1; Pearl Colnot 50c; Victoria E. Leonard 50c; L. A. Quent $1; Delores Flynn 50c; F. E. Kelley $1; Lee Hillard 50c; F. R. Wadlinger $1; Harold M. Wright $1; W. C. Wooley $1; Lena Badger 50c; Emily Bush 50c; Angie Colnot 50c; J. P. McConnell $1; Total $14.

A miscellaneous group includes the following: Mrs. R. J. Offutt $1.50; W. H. Hodgkinson $1; Joseph Hannon, $5; W. G. Davis $1; Daniel Leasure Auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans $10; Total $18.

Checks may be sent to Mr. Meermans at the Y. M. C. A. and should be made out to D. D. Valensi, Financial Secretary G. A. R. Encampment Committee.

Eating Bear Meat Is Fatal To Girls

(International News Service) EUREKA, Cal., June 5.—Eating of bear meat which resulted in trichinosis caused the death of two Trinity county girls here last year, it was revealed by two state health officials, meeting with Dr. W. J. Quinn, city health officer. The visiting officers were Dr. J. C. Geiger of the Hooper Foundation, University of California, and Dr. J. P. Gray, assistant state epidemiologist.

Clara Seeks Parole

After seven years in San Quentin prison, Clara Phillips, once known as the "tiger woman" and "hammer murderer," is preparing to apply for a pardon. This photo, a recent one, shows her face more rounded, hair more glossy and general health improved, by her stay in prison. It is expected she will return to Los Angeles.

SALEM TO HONOR LANDING OF GOVERNOR WINTHROP

On June 12, the 300th anniversary of the arrival of Governor John Winthrop with the royal charter, will be celebrated at Salem, Mass. Among the landmarks of Salem are the famous old House of Seven Gables, built in 1668, top, which inspired Nathaniel Hawthorne to write his book of that name. It stands on the water's edge at Salem harbor and is visited by thousands of tourists each year. The house in which 80 witches were condemned, below, also stands today. Photos are of the two houses and Hawthorne's statue.

Police Officer Goes To Rescue Of Spring Bonnet Blown In River

Step right up, everybody, and meet Officer Charles Longstreth, of the city police force, a man, who, by an act this morning, proved himself able to meet satisfactorily the most specific requirements of a gallant knight. Perhaps you noticed that there was some little gusts of wind over the East Washington street bridge this morning. Or perhaps you didn't. At any rate, there was, and it caused considerable mischief. The pretty Spring bonnet of a lady who was crossing the bridge, was blown from the lady's head, to the river, away down under the bridge.

And that was the state of affairs when Officer Longstreth strided up, with a grapping hook. Down went the hook, up came the hat and the lady was pleased, needless to say. The hat was a little wet, of course, having spent several seconds in the Neshannock, but a wet hat is a lot better than none at all.

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 5.—Committee treasurers from six counties today filed expense accounts with the State Bureau of Elections.

They were as follows: Republican League of Crawford Co. for the Davis-Brown ticket received $4150 and spent $4135.

Regular Republican organization of Venango Co. received $2900 and spent $2897 and still owes $45.

Adams Co. Grundy committee received $1500 and spent $1431.

Susquehanna Co. Pinchot committee received $600 and spent $494.

Cumberland Co. Pinchot committee received and spent $200.

Crawford Co. committee for Phillips received and spent $531.

Soucek Believes He Broke Record

Check Barometer Used In Soucek's Plans For Altitude Record In Seaplane

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, June 5.—Lieut. Apollo Soucek, the navy's record holder for altitude in a seaplane probably will know by tomorrow whether he has regained from Willi Neuenhofen of Germany the land plane crown.

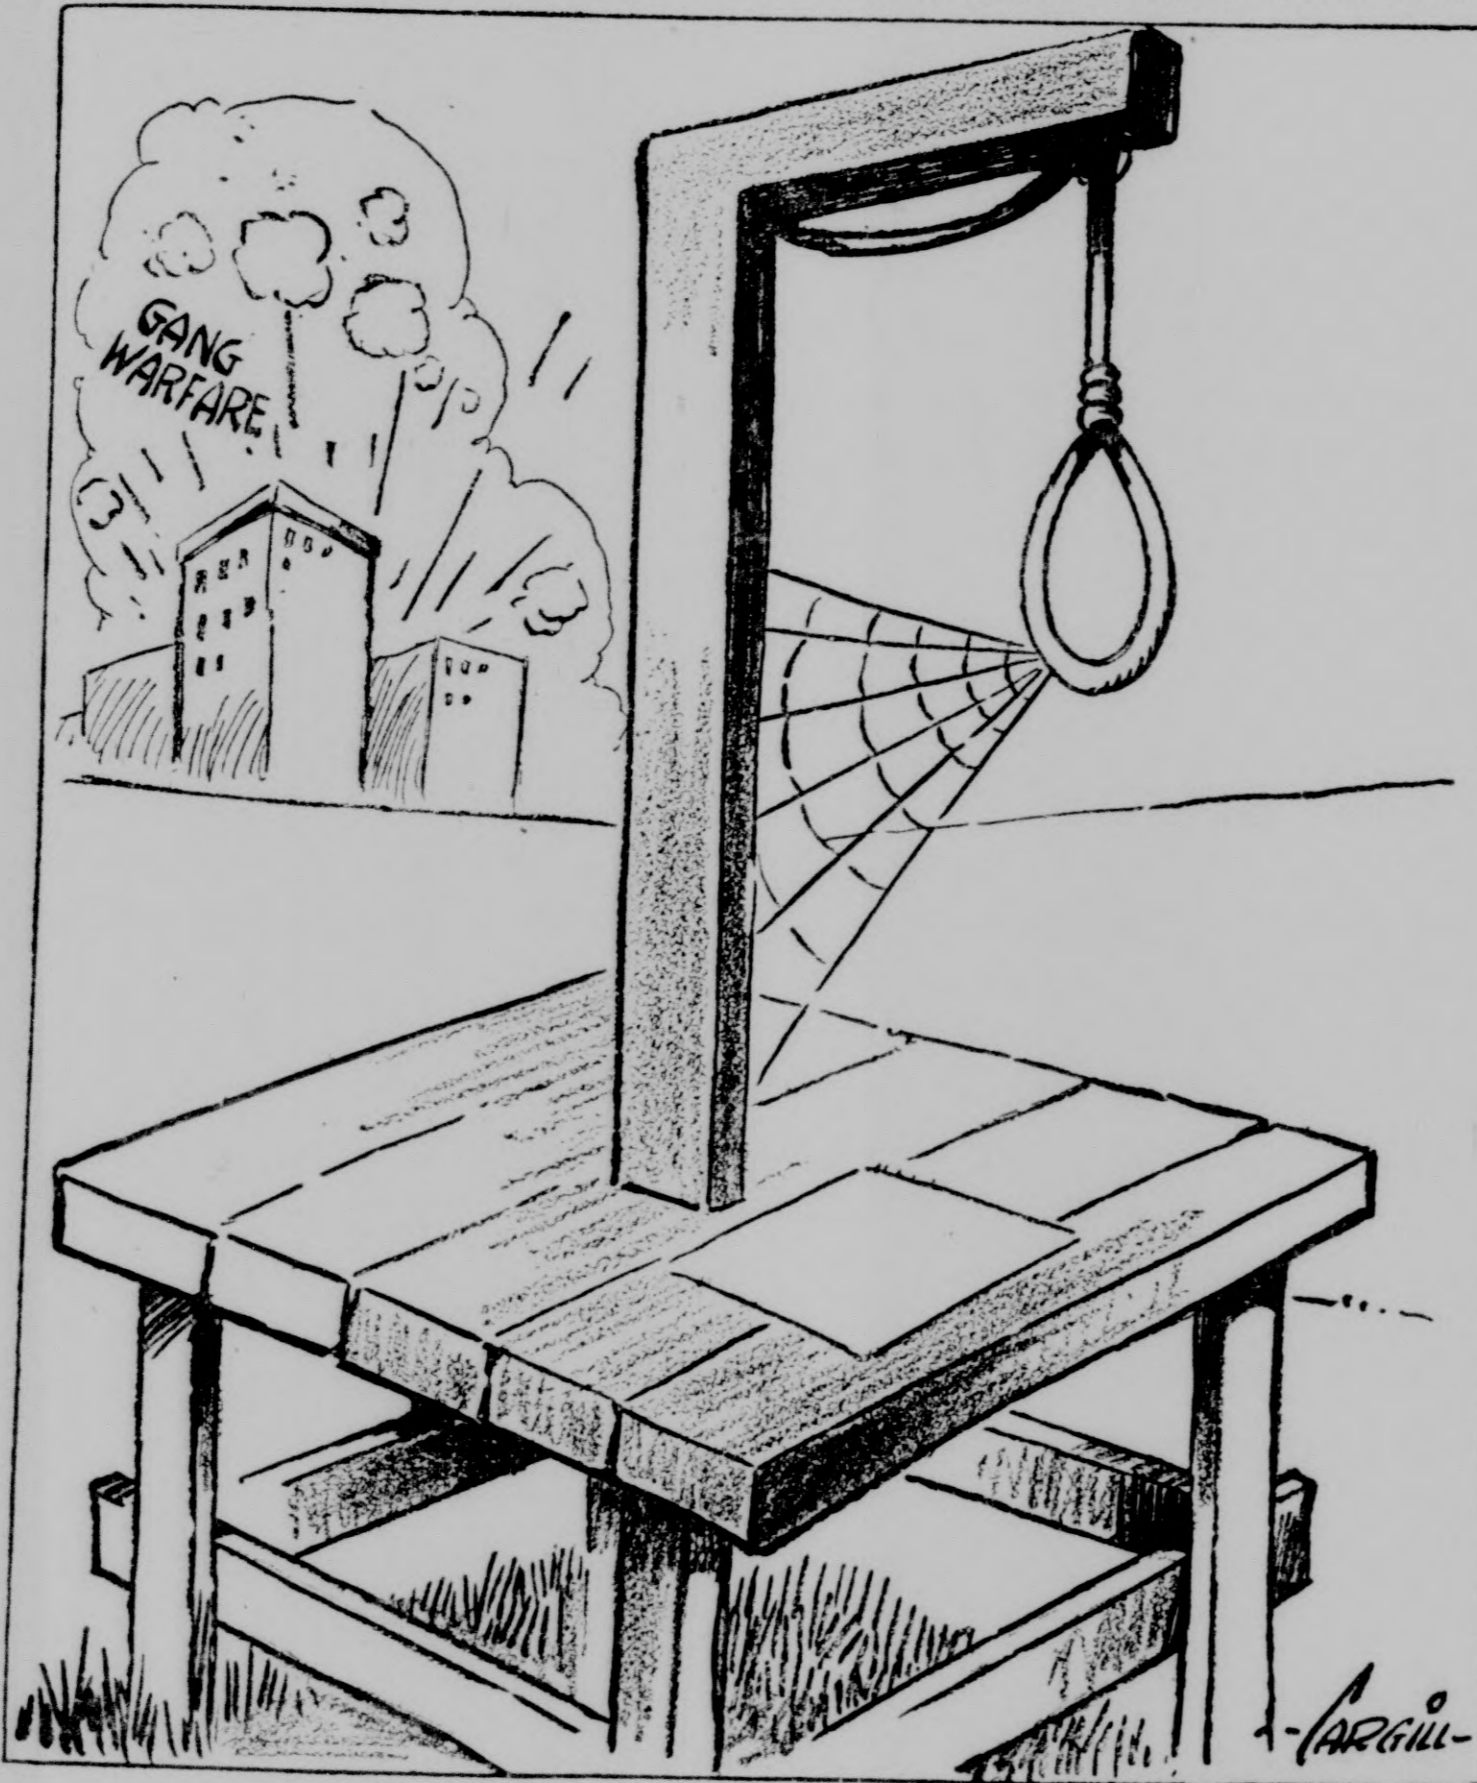

His altimeter reading 42,000 feet after two hours and ten minutes in the air yesterday afternoon, Soucek must have attained a barograph reading of 42,122 feet to be credited with breaking Neuenhofen's record of 41,794 feet made at Dessau, Germany, in a Junkers monoplane May 25, 1929.

Under the rules of the Federation Aeronautique Internationale, in order to break an existing record, an altitude 100 meters (328 feet) higher than the record, must have been attained.

Soucek's barograph is being checked today at the bureau of standards, and a report is expected tomorrow. Soucek used the same Wright Apache plane with a Pratt and Whitney Wasp motor that he used when he made both the seaplane record and a former landplane record. His seaplane record is an indicated altitude of 38,500 feet.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

John Paul Jones—The Capture Of The "Mellish"

JONES'S MOST IMPORTANT CAPTURE IN HIS SECOND RAID ON CAPE BRETON ISLAND (1776) WAS THE ARMED BRITISH BRIG "MELLISH," BOUND FOR QUEBEC, WHICH HE ENCOUNTERED OFF LOUISBOURG.

THE BRIG WAS FOUND TO BE LOADED WITH WINTER CLOTHING, BLANKETS AND SUPPLIES FOR BURGOYNE'S BRITISH ARMY IN CANADA THAT WAS PREPARING TO INVADE NEW YORK FROM THE NORTH.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

MANNED BY AN AMERICAN PRIZE CREW, THE "MELLISH" SUCCEEDED IN DODGING THE WATCHFUL ENGLISH CRUISERS AND RACED INTO DARTMOUTH, WHERE HER PRECIOUS CARGO WAS TRANSFERRED TO A WAGON TRAIN AND SENT TO WASHINGTON'S ARMY.

THE ARRIVAL OF HEAVY GREATCOATS, THICK WOOLEN STOCKINGS AND WARM BLANKETS CHEERED THE RAGGED CONTINENTALS WHO HAD BEEN GOING ABOUT IN THE SNOW THINLY CLAD AND ALMOST BARE FOOTED.

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A woman of 38 from Seattle, Washington, writes that she wouldn't marry a bachelor if she had to live alone the rest of her life. She believes that men who are not married by the time they are 26 or 27 are extremely uninteresting, self-centered and not worth considering. There must be something wrong with them. The lady is engaged to marry a man of 26 and there are plenty of people who will now step forward and tell her what they think of a 12 year difference in ages when the youth is on the man's side. I imagine the bachelors will enjoy this privilege. Hop to it, all because he never was lucky enough to meet a girl like me.

How my face burns! I'll bet even my ears are red. But wait a minute Mr. Detroit, you don't know the first thing about women or love either and if you are going to judge them by what they say, you better steer clear of them. So often they have the tongues of angels and haven't—well a lot of things they could use.

And let me whisper something to you. The men who have met me didn't figure it was any special good luck. Because I tell you what is the thing to do, having learned from my own and other peoples experience, that doesn't mean that I follow my own advice. I try, but like everybody else I "mean well, try a little and fail much". Just between you and me, you don't want to know me. And you are going to like women better when you stop judging them by their smooth tongues and watch how they behave. You are one of these men who think that all women with soft hair and pink cheeks who talk poetically are what they look like they are.

Don't get the idea that girls who bid for compliments would marry you, or that they love you. Women do that to bring you to your knees. It's great fun to humble a man like you who is dead set against matrimony. Don't take their efforts too seriously. If you called their bluff they would, no doubt, run for their lives.

(If I'm wrong, write me.)

U. S. Legislator Exhibits Art Work

(International News Service)

PARIS, June 5. — That diplomatist may also be an artist is being shown by the exhibition of James G.

Bailey well-known resident of Paris and one-time member of the Kentucky legislature and later clerk of the Supreme Court of that state. Bailey is holding a one-man show at the Knoedler Galleries of portraits and landscapes made while living in Guatemala, Nicaragua, Portugal and Russia. They were done for his own pleasure but may well compare with the works of artists of long standing.

Bo-Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press.
NEW YORK, June 5.—We live in a fast age. I am reading this platitudinous from a book by the Rev. J. F. Richmond, written in 1872, and he is speaking of the young bloods of the town who, in grey top hats and beaming "fast" horses, were placing life and limb in jeopardy by driving at six miles an hour on Broadway above Columbus Circle, then known as The Boulevard.

That was before the days of the gasoline buggy—even before Mark Sullivan saw the first bicycle. In use on the ice in Central Park after it had been brought from England in 1876.

Upper Broadway was also known as Bloomingdale Road and that part of it extended from 59th St. to 135th. The awe-struck Reverend Richmond wrote that "the land along the road was held at fabulous prices."

Real estate men now chuckle at those "fabulous prices."

FIRST GHOST WRITER

We learn from Alfred Payson Terhune's "To the Best of My Memory" that the author of really fine dog stories was New York's first ghost writer. He tells in his excellent autobiography that when he was editor of the magazine section of the Evening World he ran a series of stories by Ten Beautiful Shop Girls and Ten Beautiful Actresses. Mr. Terhune was the entire twenty and followed this up by ghosting for Lillian Russell, Mrs. Leslie Carter, Jim Corbett and David Belasco.

Among the interesting incidents in Mr. Terhune's Park Row career, he tells of the publication of an anonymous

HAS THE LAXATIVE IN YOUR HOME A DOCTOR'S APPROVAL?

Some things people do to help the bowels whenever any bad breath, feverishness, biliousness, or a lack of appetite warn of constipation, really weaken these organs. Only a doctor knows what will cleanse the system without harm. That is why the laxative in your home should have the approval of a family doctor.

The wonderful product, known to millions as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, is a family doctor's prescription for sluggish bowels. It never varies from the original prescription which Dr. Caldwell wrote thousands of times in many years of practice, and proved safe and reliable for men, women and children. It is made from herbs and other pure ingredients, so it is pleasant-tasting, and can form no habit. You can buy this popular laxative from all druggists.

The old pay envelope hold a weekly stipend of $100 she is within her rights to spend $300.

It's an idea—and that's about all. Telling a bride what to buy for the big moment of her life is like trying to legislate the grace of God into the human heart.

MOVING UP

On Broadway there is today a patent medicine show, a dime museum, several auction rooms, a minstrel troupe, an automatic photograph parlor, innumerable open air drink fountains, a flea circus, one or two second-hand stores, food automata, barker for picture houses, panhandlers, grafters, racketeers, uncounted speakeasies, the Salvation Army, pitch men, sprung-heel actors, faded soubrettes and gimme girls by the hundreds.

The Bowery has moved uptown.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon. Rev. Francis J. Hurney, pastor of the Immaculate Conception church of Washington, D. C., offered the following prayer:

We pray Thee, O God of might, wisdom, and justice, through whom authority is rightly administered, laws are enacted, and judgment decreed with Thy Holy Spirit of counsel and fortitude these men here gathered for the welfare of the nation.

Let the light of Thy divine wisdom direct their deliberations and shine forth in all the proceedings and laws framed for our rule and government, so that they may tend to the preservation of peace, the promotion of national happiness, the increase of industry, sobriety, and useful knowledge, and may perpetuate to us the blessings of equal liberty.

We recommend likewise to Thy unbounded mercy all our brethren and fellow citizens throughout these United States, that they may be blessed in the knowledge and sanctification in the observance of Thy most holy law, that they may be preserved in union and in that peace which the world can not give, and after enjoying the blessings of this life be admitted to those which are eternal. Amen.

FALSE TEETH

Can Not Embarrass

Most wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their teeth dropped or slipped at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little Fastech on your plates. Makes false teeth stay in place and feel comfortable. Sweetens breath. Get Fastech at New Castle Drug Co. or any other good drug store.

"PLEDGED" USED CARS AT NEW LOW PRICES!

What Does A "Pledged" Used Car Mean?

It means that the condition of the Used Cars we offer is so good that we do not hesitate to sell them under the following terms—

5 Days Driving Trial

Select any car from our stock of pledged Used Cars and if at the end of five days you are not entirely satisfied, drive it back to our showroom, choose another of equal value or over and we will apply on your second choice the amount paid on the original "pledged" car. This arrangement also applies if you decide on a new car.

30-Day GUARANTEE

Every "pledged" Used Car is guaranteed for 30 days. This covers replacement of parts, labor or adjustments necessary under ordinary driving conditions.

Lowest Price Plainly Marked

Every "pledged" Used Car has a tag attached on which is marked the very lowest price that we can possibly place on it. In other words, you know at a glance the "rock-bottom" price.

Plan To Lay Conduit Along East Washington

A. T. And T. Underground Line Will Be Laid Beneath Sidewalks

Men employed by the American Telephone & Telegraph company are engaged in marking the East Washington street sidewalks that will be torn up by the company in order to place the new underground conduit. Work of laying the conduit will commence in about three weeks.

From Cascade park to Vogan street the conduit will be laid on the east side of the street. At Vogan street it will cross East Washington street and from there down, the conduit will be laid on the right or west side of the street. The company will replace the sidewalks torn up with new ones. The conduit is not laid on the street because of the sewer pipes and water and gas lines.

MOTORISTS MUST

HEED "STOP SIGNS"

FRANKLIN, Pa., June 5. — Drastic enforcement of the "stop" sign warnings on streets crossing the through highways in Franklin is planned by city and state motorcycle police, following a conference between Chief Sheriff and Sergeant Garnow. The signs were placed on secondary streets 10 days ago.

Many motorists have been inclined to ignore them entirely, police are informed.

Daylight Time For Convention

County Sabbath School Convention Sessions On Fast Time

Some question has been raised as to the kind of time—whether Daylight Savings time, the afternoon session at 1:30 Daylight Savings time, the Christian Fellowship Banquet at 6:30 Daylight Savings time and the evening session at 8:00 o'clock Daylight Savings time. All of these sessions are one-half hour later than usual, so this will benefit those going on Eastern Standard time.

A resume of the program is as follows: Morning session—addresses by Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, Rev. E. H. Bonsall and Convention sermon by Rev. G. S. Bennett. Afternoon session—Addresses by Rev. F. B. McAlister, Dr. M. Hadwin Fischer, Rev. E. H. Bonsall and Conference Periods. 6:30 Christian Fellowship Banquet for those making reservations—a happy fellowship occasion. Evening session—Law Enforcement Rally addressed by Dr. Homer W. Tope, Pennsylvania at all sessions but an allowance will be made so that it will be convenient for those going on Eastern Standard time. For instance, the morning session will start at 9:30 Daylight Savings time, the afternoon session at 1:30 Daylight Savings time, the Christian Fellowship Banquet at 6:30 Daylight Savings time and the evening session at 8:00 o'clock Daylight Savings time. All of these sessions are one-half hour later than usual, so this will benefit those going on Eastern Standard time.

State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League followed by inspirational sermon by Rev. F. B. McAlister.

It is also well to remember that three shields will be awarded. At afternoon session the women's adult classes will sit together and shield will be presented to the man's adult class in the county having the best percentage of attendance based on enrollment.

Correct this sentence: "I'd live on bread and water," said the slim fellow, "Before I'd develop a paunch like that."

At Christian Fellowship Banquet shield will be presented to Sabbath school in county having the best representation, based on enrollment.

At evening session a shield will be awarded to Men's Adult Class of Lawrence County having best percentage of attendance present.

Correct this sentence: "I'd live on bread and water," said the slim fellow, "Before I'd develop a paunch like that."

Dangerous Varicose Veins Reduced or Money Back

This Simple Home Treatment Is Giving Amazing Results

Rub Gently Upward and Toward the Heart as Blood in Veins Flows That Way.

If you or any relative or friend is worried because of varicose veins, or bunches, the best advice that anyone in this world can give you is to ask your druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and apply as directed night and morning to the swollen, enlarged veins. Soon you will notice that they are growing smaller and the treatment should be continued until the veins are of normal size. So penetrating and powerful is Emerald Oil that even Piles are quickly relieved. New Castle Drug Co., McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eckerd's of New Castle Inc. sells lots of it.

Dodgers Amass Eight Misplays

Brooklyn May Someday Set Modern Record For Errors In Single Game

CRIPPLED CUBS DEFEAT BRAVES

By HENRY McLEMORE
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 5.—Those believers in arithmetical progression and aren't we all expecting the Brooklyn Robins today to tie the modern record for errors in one game by one club.

On Tuesday the Robins miscued four times. Yesterday they committed eight bobbles. Today, the staunch believers say, the Robins will err an even dozen times to place their names alongside the Tigers of 1901 and the White Sox of 1903.

Make Eight Errors

Those eight errors yesterday cost seven runs, which coupled with five legitimate ones, gave the Pirates a 12 to 6 victory. Pittsburgh, led by the zealous Ehle, tried to match Brooklyn error for error but had to be content with five-four by Ehle.

The crippled Cubs swung their switches with enough vigor to point out twenty hits for an 18 to 10 win over the Braves. Cuyler had a perfect day at bat with a homer, a double and three singles. Walter Berger smacked his fifteenth of the year.

Six runs in the first inning, the Giants were never headed. They whipped the Reds, 3 to 5. Donohue, recently acquired from the Redlegs, was the winning pitcher.

Ra Bengtson limited the Cards to four hits as the Phillies won 2 to 1. Hater hit a homer for St. Louis' only score.

Ruth Hits 18th

Ruth hit No. 18 as the Yanks bowed to the White Sox 7 and 8. Johnny Kerr's homer in the tenth was the deciding blow of the game.

Philadelphia made it two straight over the Browns, winning 4 to 3. Sam Gray, one time ace of the Browns' staff, but who hasn't won a game this season, was the losing pitcher. He was opposed by Earnshaw.

Big Ed Morris outlasted Willis Hudlin in a ten inning battle and the Red Sox tripped Cleveland 5 and 4. Scarity's single scoring Reeves from second ended the game.

Washington blasted across three runs in the tenth inning to humble the Tigers, 11 to 8. The Tigers fought an uphill battle all the way, overcoming a six-run to tie the score in the ninth. Mark Koenig, acquired last week from the Yankees, made his debut at short for the Tigers.

Girl Golfer Plays Excellent Game

(International News Service)

BROOKLYN, Mass., June 5.—A new star occupied an important spot in the American Women's golf firmament today. Miss Frances Williams, 18-year old daughter of a golf pro, won the Women's Eastern Golf Championship over the local country club course yesterday, covering the 54-holes of medal play in 254 strokes.

Playing superb golf, the Pottstown, Pa. girl sailed through to finish 11 strokes ahead of her nearest competitor, Mrs. J. L. Anderson of Cherry Valley, N. Y. It was Miss Williams' second championship tournament.

The Philadelphia district won the Fanny Osgeod Memorial Trophy as the team, headed by Miss Williams, finished with a grand total of 1,335. Six strokes behind was the Boston team while the New York district was last with 1,361 strokes.

THE GOLF BUG

New Castle can feel justly proud of its two fine golf courses. The Municipal Links and the Field Club Course. Upwards of a hundred or so golfers are seen at each course almost daily.

Especially has the travelling public been loud in their praise of the Municipal Links. New Castle heretofore did not afford a place for the out-of-towners to enjoy their game of golf while visiting here, but now it is not uncommon to find the travelling man with his golf clubs going to the links after a hard day's work.

Walter "Hub" Har, the manager of the Municipal Course is doing all within his power to give the golfing fraternity of New Castle something fine in the way of ancient game. Hart is busy all day long taking care of numerous requests of the golfers. It's no soft job taking care of a public course.

The clubhouse at the Muncy Course is proving quite popular with the golfers. The lounge room with its fine furnishings is being monopolized almost every hour of the day.

Under the supervision of Mose Mancine, the caddies at the Muncy Course are becoming more efficient every day. There is a good class of caddies at the public links. The golfers are asked to help the youngsters as much as possible and to kindly refrain from abusing them. They are trying to learn the game the same as you.

Surprising is the number of women golfers who play the Municipal Course. Each day there are upwards of 15 to 25 women on the course. The women cannot play baseball or football, but when it comes to golf they have an equal chance with the men.

A match is brewing between the Field Club golfers and the Muncy golfers. It will be a ten-man affair. It promises to bring out the real golfers of the city. When they tangle it should be interesting and no doubt a large gallery will follow the various matches. Nunn and Trainer will match shots with the best that the Muncy Course can offer.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

As Sharkey and Schmeling go thru their training and the various writers flock to their training camps it may be well to give the local fans the opinion of Frank Fowles, Jr., manager of Billy Jones, who visited here a few days ago.

In Fowles' opinion Sharkey will knock out Schmeling before the seventh round. Fowles told this to The News sports editor in a fanning-bec at the Leslie house.

Of course Fowles made the prediction during the first few days of Schmeling's training. Frank has been around quite a bit, hears a lot of eastern fight gossip and didn't attach any reservations to his prediction. In fact he went so far as to say that he believes Jones would win over the German should they meet and he said Jones wouldn't weigh more than 170 pounds.

The opinions of Jimmie Dime and Jimmie Dunn were paged later and neither would venture an opinion. Jimmie Dime said: "I expect to attend the fight, and previous will go to the training camps of both fighters. I'll back my opinion with money but I won't make any until I see them both at work, with wraps off, and then I'll give you what I think is the 'low-down'."

Dunn said: "I have never seen either fight. It would be idle words to express an opinion. You have to see them work if you have never seen them." Jimmie is handling Frank Simms, who knocked out Ted Sandwina, and will not be able to make the trip east. He believes that some of these days Simms will blossom forth as one of the real topnotchers.

Phil Goldstein and Andy Andrucci who clash here Monday night ought to satisfy the most rabid fight fan as they are bitter rivals in Pittsburgh, and promoters in the Smoky town would have liked to have had the match. Andrucci gave Goldstein a rather neat lacing some months ago and this has rankled in Phil's heart and he hopes to reverse the score here.

This Will Be Good.

Phil staged a good fight with Danny Delmont, who carried dynamite in his right hand. Andrucci hits good with both hands, keeps tearing in and believes he can do what he once accomplished. It is a fight that will draw hundreds of fans here from Pittsburgh and the fan who misses out on the coming fight will have a couple of regrets the next day.

Bobby Dempsey and Jackie Ward, the two bantamweight wildcats, will furnish the action in the semi-final and it is needless to say anyone about these kids. They produce action and with Mike Lucas opposed to Roged Shea and two laughmakers, Warren Farrow and Ward Parchman, heavyweights, in the first bout, the fans will see a show that it worth while.

During the past few days there has been a shift in things at the Jolly bowl and the promoter, Bill Jolly, while remaining as promoter, has turned over the active management to Ed Fritz, who will continue making matches. Phil G. Greer remains as financial secretary. Jolly says he has too many other affairs to occupy his time and wants to give his undivided attention to those matters.

The first order that Fritz issued was one that rescinded all passes and the free list has been eliminated. Employees who are dead on their feet will go. Industrial depression here has cut in on boxing and he figures that if a bout is worth seeing it is worth paying for. Boxers fight on percentage here and they voice objections to a free list and knowing this the free list will now be a thing of the past.

Talking about golf. Ten years ago would anyone here have imagined that approximately 3,600 would play golf during one month? We'll be one to confess that we did not think so but such has occurred and there is talk of several driving courses being started here. The driving is what the new golfer wants and already plans are under progress for two such courses.

Forget That Knockout!

And then there is another side to golf. For instance we are fairly well acquainted with a married woman who became a golf devotee yesterday. It was her first trip. She made a hole in one when she drove a ball through the windshield of a city truck on the course and another ball she drove hit a man on the ankle. Now say there aren't thrills in municipal golfing!

The knockout of Tommy Arnold shouldn't mean a thing in his life and if his mentors want to get back (and we believe that Arnold is capable of turning the trick) we would suggest letting Jimmie Dime tutor that kid and put him back in the ring with Mike Keller, who got a taste of Arnold's left hand.

New Castle Indies Will Play Tonight

(International News Service)

The New Castle Indies will play the Lawrence Indies tonight at the Cedar Street field. All players are asked to report at the DiMuccio store at 6 o'clock.

Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock the Indies will go to Hillsville for a game with the Hillsville All-Stars. The Indies would like to get into the City-County League, but they do not have a playing field. There are plenty of open dates left on the Indies schedule. Call 9061 and ask for Jimmy.

Friedman Leaves For Chicago Today

Len Friedman, Geneva Javelin Star, and Former New Castle Boy In National Meet

In several years of competition, Leonard "Len" Friedman, former New Castle High star, and at present Geneva's sure point-getter in the javelin throw, has tasted defeat just once. Tonight Friedman goes to Chicago to participate in the National Collegiate track and field carnival at Stagg Field. Will his good fortune continue? Dave Meyers of New York University is the only javelin heaver in the past several years to beat Friedman.

In fact since Friedman threw that javelin away at New Wilmington one day, he has been licked but once. The Geneva star is throwing the wand over 200 feet now and this will place in the National Collegiate.

The Penn Relay javelin medal rests with Friedman and also the Ohio State Relays medal.

He will be pitted against the cream of the nation at Chicago. His many friends here are anxiously awaiting his throws in the Windy City. Friedman graduates this year at Geneva. He has been their big star for the past four years.

Woman Injured In Auto Collision

Number Of Accidents Are Reported On The City

Cars of Frank Babriaz, 1309 Pennsylvania Avenue and Clark Gleason, 308 Highland Avenue, came together this morning at Mill and Lutton streets, both machines being damaged to some extent.

Catherine Babriaz, a sister of the former, who was in the car with him, was injured and was removed to the New Castle Hospital. At the hospital it was stated that she had sustained some bruises and that her injuries were not of a serious character.

Mr. Babriaz was enroute north on Mill street, while Mr. Gleason was enroute east on Lutton street and was planning to turn onto Mill street. Both claim the accident due to the fault of the other.

Other Accidents

E. Lepisto, R. D. No. 1, reported that he was enroute west on Adams street when his car, which was in a collision with a car bearing Pennsylvania License 487JP enroute east on Adams street. Both machines were damaged.

Charles Barut of Hanna street extension reported that he was enroute North on South Jefferson street, between Long Avenue and Big Run Bridge, when a colored girl named Johnson ran out into the street and into his machine. She was removed to the New Castle Hospital, where it was found that she was not badly hurt.

Mrs. Henry Houserman of New Galilee reported that she was enroute north on North Mill street and turning west on Falls street, when a car bearing Pennsylvania license ES87T going south on Mill street, sideswiped and damaged both cars.

J. E. Bailey of 925 Beckford street, reported that he had his machine parked on South street, when a car backed out of an alley near the Willard Battery station and hit and damaged his machine.

Hold Ohio Man On Serious Charge

J. C. Schmucker, Middlefield, O., is in county jail awaiting court trial at the next term of court on a charge of transporting children for immoral purposes. Two girls, one 13 and the other 15, are involved. The charges were made by Col. W. W. Stevenson following an investigation of reports received by State Policemen Jack Gondell and Michael Shuliff. The policemen questioned the girls and Schmucker then called Col. Stevenson into the case.

No bail will be allowed, according to Alderman Marshall before whom a hearing was held last night.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Trading Is Light In Stock Exchange

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, June 5.—General conditions in the stock market were unchanged in the early trading today. Stock sales in the first half hour totaled 213,000 shares, or about 20 per cent of a normal market as judged by recent standards and 10 per cent of the volume of some of the blazing markets of late 1929.

Price changes were irregular, though the trend of the active shares was upward. Coca-Cola, advanced about 5 points. Freepoint Texas added 2 1/2 points to yesterday's rise and sold above 61. Warner Brothers sold up about 2 points and most of the utilities sold higher. Anaconda Copper was under pressure and moved down to 56 1/2 and a few of the specialties, including Industrial Alcohol and DuPont receded 1 to 3 points. The motors were heavy and dull in the second hour, with losses mostly fractional.

Yesterday's cut in bankers acceptance rates accompanying the lowering of the Reserve bank's buying rate, suggested the possibility of a reduction in the New York Reserve bank's rediscount rate this afternoon. Some of the dealers announced another cut in bill rates today, to 2 1/2. Bid 2 1/2 asked on 30, 60 and 90 day bills, emphasizing the piling up of unused credit at the financial centers. Call money was unchanged at 3 per cent.

Shenango Gives Diplomas To 34

First Senior Class Graduated Wednesday Night; Pitt Professor Speaks

Thirty-four seniors received diplomas at the first annual commencement program of the Shenango township high school on Wednesday night, at which Dr. H. C. McKown, member of the University of Pittsburgh faculty spoke.

The exercises were held in the Shenango auditorium, filled to near capacity for the occasion by parents, relatives and well-wishers of the graduating class.

"Thoughtless Thinkers" was the theme of the address which Dr. McKown delivered. In it he pointed out the types that think thoughtlessly, emphasizing the dangers that result.

Howard Boston made the salutatory address while Carrie Booher delivered the valedictory. The Rev. Claude Downs, pastor of the Savannah M. E. church gave both the invocation and benediction. Diplomas were presented by Principal Clare B. Book.

Special numbers were contributed by the school orchestra.

Troop 15 Boys To Attend In Uniform

Boy Scouts of the First Christian church Troop 15 will attend the scout celebration at Edinburg tonight, being sponsored by the scout troop of that place. The entire troop will attend in uniforms and will be equipped with bugles, handbooks and other essentials.

Members are asked to meet at the church promptly at 7:30 o'clock. Transportation will be provided.

Brooklyn Youth Wins $149,000

Argument Occurs In Brooklyn Home Over Ownership Of English Race Ticket

EVERYBODY HAPPY AS ROW IS ENDED

(International News Service) NEW YORK, June 5. — Money brings unhappiness, it has been said and for a short time last midnight it looked as if the old adage would be borne out in the Brooklyn home of Eddie Dougherty, Wall Street clerk who won $149,000 on the English Derby pool of a Canadian veterans organization.

Today the clouds had cleared and all was serene in the Dougherty home. Dominick D. Dougherty, Eddie's father had given the youth a dollar with which to purchase a ticket in the pool. That ticket won. When Eddie was advised he had won he apparently overlooked the fact that though the ticket was in his name it was paid for by his dad.

The 19-year-old clerk hurried home from a vacation resort in Pennsylvania and when he arrived there was an argument over the ownership of the money the ticket would bring.

"It's my ticket," said Eddie.

"Why don't you tell the truth? Why I have witnesses that I paid you for it," countered his father.

The argument grew hotter and things were near a breaking point when Eddie's brother Danny stepped in as a peacemaker. When they came out of the house all three Doughertys were smiling as two kids and their dad will smile when a little clash has cleared up.

"There's enough there for all three of us. Isn't there?" Danny announced.

"Yes," said Eddie.

"Sure," said his dad.

Student Able To Leave Hospital

Robert Gibson of R. F. D. No. 1 New Castle, Westminster College student, who sustained a broken leg in an auto accident several months ago, has been able to leave the Jameson Memorial hospital and return to his home.

Gibson was injured when his machine skidded from the road and went into the ditch near New Wilmington. A companion in the machine escaped with minor bruises.

CIVIL WAR VETERAN HAS HAND INJURED

A. R. Houston of Neshannock Avenue, Civil War Veteran, is suffering from the effects of injuries sustained several days ago, when he had his hand caught in a wringer. The skin was badly torn from several of his fingers.

Mr. Houston is anxiously looking forward to the big convention next week, and states that his injuries will not prevent him from being in attendance.

Lawrence Skowron, sodomy.

Issues Licenses To 38 Hospitals

HARRISBURG, June 5.—Maternity hospitals throughout the state are rapidly being licensed by the State Department of Welfare under the provision of an act of the last legislature which required such registration for a fee of ten dollars according to a report made public to secretary of welfare.

There have been thirty-eight licenses issued to date during the last two months when the licensing and inspection requirements went into practice. It is estimated by department officials that there are about 55 maternity hospitals in the state now known although many more probably will be revealed by the inspections. Hospitals of first and second class cities and state-owned and state-aided hospitals are not required to hold maternity licenses.

Stomach Trouble Readily Yields To Merits Of New And Different Medicine.

MR. WM. BENTON

"It certainly is a relief to be able to eat without misery," said Mr. William Benton, 375 Bedford St., Johnstown. "For the past three months I suffered from an acid stomach. I had belching spells and bloating after each meal. Pains, heartburn and indigestion were common. I was rundown in general and had little energy or vigor."

"It was a happy day when I started taking Konjola. It went right to work and the first bottle made an improvement. As I continued the treatment, my digestion grew better and better. Today I eat what I please without suffering afterward. In fact I feel like a different person and Konjola gets all the credit."

It is logical to believe that what Konjola has done for others it will do for you—for everyone.

ROAMING

With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

A penitentiary may seem to be a rather odd place for roaming, but yesterday's was done in one. And a voice from the back room yells, "how did you get out?" But as odd as it might be, it still is an interesting place, at least for a visitor.

Here in western Pennsylvania you may be interested to know that we have one of the outstanding prison officials of the entire United States, Stanley P. Ashe. In the six or eight years he has been in charge of the Western Penitentiary in Pittsburgh and Rockview, he has established himself as a prison official who never has any trouble with his charges, and who conducts a prison in the way it should be.

Warden Ashe is not the usual political appointee type of official. He is a college man, a son of a preacher, and a former school superintendent. His ideas of school discipline have been carried into the prison and successfully.

"When the state incarcerates a man, it should not break him physically or mentally," said he. "If a man is to be locked up for punishment, he should still be given something to do, exercise, and as much fresh air as possible." And these ideas are followed out. Every man has a job as far as it is possible to give him one.

Many of them work in the tag shop, where your automobile license plates are being made for next year. Some of them are in the weaving shop where they make pants cloth for prison garments. Still others are in the sewing department where caps and shirts are made up. Others work in the kitchen, in the boiler room, in the dining room, and no man is overworked or imposed upon.

Many things stand out at the Western Penitentiary, and among them is the absolute lack of the prison is one expects to find. Most jails have a stale odor in them that seems to cling to the walls. None of it in the Pittsburgh prison. The answer is that the cell blocks and other rooms are kept clean. Not an artificial cleanliness by using tar products to kill the odor, but a good old fashioned cleanliness caused by the use of plenty of soap and water plus some elbow grease.

The prison in Pittsburgh is not as modern as the one at Rockview, and hence not quite as natty in appearance. But the both of them are well kept, well disciplined, and trouble among the prisoners is something almost unheard of. They soon learn under the Ashe system that a man is going to be treated just about the way he rates, and the result is order.

There is a well organized school inside the prison, and the attendance officer is a man whose acquaintance I made when he stood trial in this county some years ago. "He is one of the best influences for young men we have in the prison," said Warden Ashe. "The youngster who comes in here with the idea that he is now a big timer, soon gets it out of his head after he has a little talk with him. He has gone the route, knows what crime is, and the futility of it, and his work among prisoners here is something that means much to the prison discipline."

The dining room looks like that of a boy's boarding school or a summer camp. The tables are scrubbed far cleaner than tables in most homes, and every one of them is white. The food is not fancy, but it is clean and well prepared, and decently served.

It is men like Stanley P. Ashe who are the hope of the prison system of this country and it is my opinion that Pennsylvania can not expect to hold him forever. Such men are wanted in larger positions.

OFFICIAL IS VISITOR
E. W. Smith, vice president of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pittsburgh, aboard his private business car, passed through New Castle this morning enroute to Sharon. Mr. Smith will spend the day there, returning to Pittsburgh early this evening.

Wolves Organize New Club Last Night In Butler

Organization There Will Be Known As Wolves Club No. Two

Officers and members of the New Castle Wolves Club, the first civic organization of its kind in the country, to the number of fourteen met last night at Butler last evening, where in the Penn Butler Hotel, they helped organize Wolves Club No. 2 of Butler, Pa.

The organization there adopted the same constitution and by laws as used by the local organization and became Club No. 2 of the Wolves organization, which it is anticipated will become quite widespread in the future.

D. D. Valiens, president of the Wolves Club of New Castle, explained the needs of an organization of this kind in every city and told of the work done here. Anthony Marino gave a very interesting talk concerning the constitution and by-laws of the organization.

The Butler Club starts with fifteen members and elected a temporary president and secretary. The organization will be perfected in the near future.

The Butler club voted to join with the New Castle Club in a picnic to be held June 15 at Neshannock Falls.

"What Is Right With The Church"

Rev. Joshua Will Deliver Interesting Sermon At Croton Church, Sunday

Because of the frequent articles in leading magazines in which the church is given much criticism, Rev. Clifford S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton M. E. church will have for his sermon subject, Sunday morning, "What Is Right With The Church."

Rev. Joshua states that magazine articles often take one sided and biased views of the question. In his sermon, which promises to be of great interest, Rev. Joshua will present the many and strong arguments for the church.

Sunday's services will commemorate the 1900 anniversary of the church.

Advices Spanish War Vets On New Pension Measure

Congressman Swick Offers Services And Cautions Veterans On Way To Apply

Word has been received here from Congressman J. Howard Swick, as to the correct method of procedure in applying for pensions and pension increases by Spanish War Veterans under the recent pension bill, which was passed over the President's veto on June 2.

The Act provides increases for all veterans who are now receiving thirty or more dollars per month, but it not automatic heretofore, but instead must be formally applied for.

The attention of Veterans who expect to make application is called to line sixteen of the application for increase, where space is provided for stating reasons for increase. They should not enumerate their disabilities in this space but should simply state "Under provisions of the Act of Congress dated June 2, 1930."

Congressman Swick states that his office will be pleased to look after the claims of all veterans desiring to apply for the increase under the new law.
